SUCHOW TAKEN, IS CLAIM OF COMMUNISTS

Reported on Red Radio; Nationalists Say Capital Not To Be Moved.

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 2—The Chinese Communists laid claim tonight to Suchow, important government base 211 miles northwest of Nanking.

This exposed the rear of three government army groups moving slowly southward in an effort to support other Nationalist armies isolated under Communist attacks in the Suhsien and Pengpu areas ranging down to 100 miles from Nanking.

The Communist broadcast heard in Nanking said Suchow fell at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

A few minutes before the Communist broadcast, the government military spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, had said all government troops in Suchow—estimated at about 250,000—were concentrated for a march southward. He denied, however, that this meant Suchow had been abandoned.

Claire Chennault's China air transport pilots who dropped rice to Suchow had reported Communists within one mile of the city and that refugees were pouring out to the westward.

The Suchow garrison was last reported blocked about 25 miles south of Suchow by strong Communist opposition.

(The Communist broadcast, also heard in San Francisco, added a claim that the 110th division of the government's trapped 12th Army group near Suhsien had come over to the Communist side.)

Not Leaving Capital, Government Reports

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 2—The Chinese government told foreign diplomats today it has "no intention to remove the capital" despite the critical military situation on Nanking's approaches on the north.

A foreign office spokesman said French Ambassador Jacques Meyrier dean of the diplomatic corps replied that heads of missions have decided to stay in Nanking.

The spokesman added that the government would help remove other members of the diplomatic missions who wish to leave because of Communist armies reported advancing in the area between Suchow and Pengpu. Outnumbered government forces in the area are separated.

Heavy fighting was reported near Pengpu, 100 miles northwest of Nanking and on the rail line between this capital and Suchow.

(Claire Chennault's China air transport planes began dropping rice bags at isolated Suchow—and some of his pilots, returning to Shanghai, reported the Communists were within one mile of the city.

(The pilots reported thick columns of refugees streaming westward out of Suchow and fires raging a mile to the north and four miles to the southeast.)

The Suchow garrison of 250,000 has abandoned the big Nationalist base in an effort to relieve the trapped 12th army group to the south, in the suhsien sector. But the garrison troops Wednesday were reported blocked by Red forces 25 miles south of Suchow.

New Welcome Sign Greets Motorists

A handsome sign, twelve feet square, (above), now welcomes visitors entering Marion from the south on route 23.

The new sign, located on Marion Cemetery Association property is on the east side of the highway just south of the Harding Memorial. In its center in large letters is the legend "Marion Welcomes You" in dark letters on a light background. Its construction is of luminous material so that the welcome glows forth to the visitor though he arrive by night.

This sign is termed a "test" sign by the Inter-Club Council. It bears enlarged replicas of the insignia of the six service clubs which form the council, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Rotary International, Exchange Club, Kiwanis International, and Y men's Service Club; surrounding the welcome sign from left to right in that order. It also bears signs listing the meeting time and location of the Lions, Rotary, Exchange, and Kiwanis clubs under each of the insignia.

The idea for the sign originated in the Inter Club Council two years ago. A committeeman from each of the member organizations assisted in preparing a rough draft of the proposed sign. From this rough draft a working drawing for construction of the sign was prepared through the courtesy of the engineering staff of the Fairfield Engineering Co. Employes of the Marion Metal Products Co. built the framework for the sign at basic labor cost while the company provided the material at cost. The Marion Cemetery association donated use of the ground on which to erect the sign while Marion Cemetery employes donated the labor necessary to dig post holes and firmly fix the sign on its location.

The member organizations of the Inter Club Council shared the cost of the large "welcome" sign while each organization supplied its own enlarged replica of its club insignia. Each club insignia measures 30 inches in diameter and is made of porcelain over steel, in each club's individual colors.

Future plans of the club council will include an effort to erect a similar sign at each of the towns other entrances, an Inter Club Council spokesman said today.

YOUTH COUNCIL TO MEET HERE

Ohio Christian Group To Open Three-Day Session on Friday.

"The Creative Community" is the theme chosen for the annual three-day conference of the Ohio Christian Youth Council in Marion Friday through Sunday at Epworth Methodist church.

Helping to develop the theme through messages and discussion will be such youth leaders as Rev. Dennis Savage, director of youth councils of the United Christian Youth movement, Dr. Roy Burkhart of First Community church in Columbus, Cecil Thomas, secretary of the Ohio State university YMCA, Rev. J. Allan Ranck, national youth director of the Evangelical United Brethren church, Dr. John Clippinger, professor of psychology and religion at Otterbein college, Westerville.

Luncheon Saturday

Registration was set for 5 p. m. Friday. Included in Saturday's schedule is a luncheon at First Evangelical and Reformed church, separate discussion groups for high school and post high school young people, a banquet at the Masonic temple, and recreation at the Y.

On Sunday, a worship service will be held, followed by a "box" luncheon, and closing service of communion.

Study groups considering various church and religious problems of young people will be directed by "some of the best qualified youth leaders in the country." Earlier, the leaders were asked to read "Alternative to Futility," by Dr. D. Elton Trueblood that they might "have a common basis for thought."

The personnel will include the following: William Hawley, dean of students, theological seminary, University of Chicago; Rev. Rudy Thomas, pastor of Central Community church, Columbus; Mrs. Dennis Savage, Chicago; Rev. Leon Sanborne, director of Westminster Foundation, OSU; Maurice Kidder, secretary, OSU YMCA; Mrs. Polly Cuthbertson, Columbus, former national secretary of students, YWCA.

Rev. J. Allen Ranck, youth director, EUB national headquarters, Dayton; Rev. William Steffens, pastor Trinity Methodist church, Portsmouth; Rev. Robert Uphoff, Memorial Methodist, Poland, O.; Rev. Roger Turrell, First Methodist, Kenton; Rev. Perry Blankenship, Washington Congregational church, Toledo; Mrs. Fred Doty, and Rev. Fred Doty, assistant pastor, First Community church, Columbus and Prof. John C. Oppinger of Otterbein college.

State officers of the OCYC are president, Arthur Villwock, Toledo, first vice president, Betty Jean Nichols, Westerville; second vice president, Phil Shober president of Northwest Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church; third vice president, Marcia Robbins, Otterbein college; recording secretary, Roberta Engle, Baldwin Wallace college; treasurer, Harold Bounds, Toledo; social action chairman, William Jacobs, Columbus; spiritual action chairman, Miss Ruth Hockett, Columbus; recreation chairman, Jacob Ruppple, Delaware.

POLICE MOVE IN TO PROTECT FACTORIES

By The Associated Press

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2—Law enforcement agencies moved in force today in the protection of two struck factories of the Shakespeare companies.

Approximately 75 city and state police and sheriff's men flung a guard around the plants, beset early yesterday by an organized band of 300 raiders.

Authorities said they were taking the step as a precaution despite the absence of any threat of renewed trouble. Since yesterday's dawn raid the scene had been relative quiet.

While officers stood by, about 200 non-striking workers passed through picket lines without incident this morning.

In addition, the sale of liquor was banned by state order in this city of 60,000 population. Such a move is seldom made except in the case of an emergency.

The order, issued by the state liquor control commission, affected bottle retail sales, taverns and private clubs and served to make Kalamazoo a "dry town" for the time being.

Investigations of the raid meanwhile were being pressed by state and local authorities and a grand jury was in the offing.

U.S. Urges Quick UN Admittance of Israel

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 2—The United States urged the security council today to admit Israel to the United Nations without delay.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, American deputy on the council, said the United States "fully supports" Israel's membership application and will vote for the new state as the 59th member of the UN.

"Our hope is that the security council will shortly approve Israel's application," he added.

The possibility had arisen that Israel's bid for membership, filed Monday on the first anniversary of the UN Palestine partition plan, might be delayed until her political future was settled.

PROCLAIM ABDULLAH KING OF PALESTINE

By The Associated Press

BEIRUT, LEBANON, Dec. 2—A Palestine Arab conference in Jericho was reported here today to have proclaimed King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan as King of Palestine.

The conference was called "the general Palestine congress." It met yesterday in Arab-occupied Jericho, the biblical city north of the Dead Sea, under the presidency of Sheik Moh Ali Gaabary.

* * *

Official confirmation of the report was lacking.

However, a dispatch from Amman, Trans-Jordan, which passed through Arab censorship last night said Sheik Gaabary had told King Abdullah of proposals by the congress and asked him, in the name of all Palestinians, to take steps for unification of Palestine and Trans-Jordan, neighboring states.

The bearded Abdullah, enthroned as king of Trans-Jordan under an agreement with Britain in 1946, was quoted as replying: "I have many times said that

Notre Dame Grid Star Of 1939 Speaks Tonight

Benny Sheridan, guest speaker at the annual banquet honoring the 1948 Harding and St. Mary football teams tonight, is the coach of the Notre Dame freshman grid squad which is said by many to be the best, but he is remembered today by what he did in 1939.

It was the last game of Sheridan's college football career and the opponent was Southern California. The Trojans were terrific that year. They went on to beat Tennessee in the Rose Bowl and cut the southerners' consecutive winning streak to 23.

Sheridan's Best Day

As might be expected the Irish lost that afternoon to Southern Cal, 20-12, but Sheridan played what some say was his best game. The little halfback completed four out of four passes. And then shifting over his own right guard and cutting back sharply, to gain 60 yards down the left sideline, he brought the packed stadium to its feet.

When he planted the ball in the

BERLIN BRACES FOR NEW RED DISRUPTIONS

Heckler's Try To Break Up Anti-Communist Election Rally in West Zone.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Dec. 2—Divided Berlin braced itself today for new Communist attempts to disrupt western sector election plans after Red hecklers last night tried to break up a western political rally.

In Russian-occupied eastern Berlin the new hand-picked Communist government gathered for its first meeting in the former central city hall from which the legally-elected government had been ousted. In western Berlin, the elected city assembly, which has declared a state of emergency, called another meeting.

Western allied liaison officers attached to the city government was withdrawn today from the central city hall.

Col. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commandant in Berlin, said: "We are going with the legal government. We only stayed there yesterday to witness the illegal act of the Communists of locking out the elected city officials."

Western sector German police forces were on the watch to break up raids on anti-Communist election campaign rallies, prior to Sunday's elections.

Undaunted by attacks by Communist rowdies western Berliners stepped up their campaign to get out a huge vote under the slogan "Berlin answers the Russian blockade."

One such rally resulted in fist fights and police intervention last night when Communist hecklers tried to break up a Social Democratic gathering in the American sector.

German police arrested nine hecklers, whom they identified as members of the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) party. One was an editor of the Soviet-licensed "Berliner Zeitung." All were released today after questioning.

Renewed Efforts To Break Deadlock Made

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 2 — Renewed mediation efforts in the Berlin deadlock were under way today.

The committee of neutral financial experts who are to draft a formula for solving the Berlin currency tangle scheduled a meeting within 24 hours of the group's creation by former Security Council President Juan Bramuglia.

At the same time a high French official warned that "something new" will be needed to end the Russian-western power rift over the blockaded former German capital.

The official said a mere formula to end currency problems would not be enough to cope with the division of Berlin into rival governments.

Bramuglia, who has led mediation efforts by the six neutral nations of the UN security council, instructed the committee to draft Berlin currency regulations acceptable to both sides before the end of December.

This would provide four-power control of the Soviet zone mark as Berlin's only currency. The Russians have said they would end their blockade of Berlin when the Russian mark is accepted.

The French official said the

Frank B. Noyes Rites To Be Held Friday

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Memorial services for Frank B. Noyes, veteran newspaper publisher and pioneer Associated Press leader, will be held here tomorrow.

The rites will be conducted by Rev. C. Leslie Glenn, rector of St. John's Episcopal church at 2 p. m. Burial will be private.

Noyes, chairman of the Evening Star newspaper, died at his home here early Tuesday morning. He had been in failing health for some months and only last winter gave up his active position as president of the newspaper.

A newspaperman for more than 60 years, Noyes was one of the founders of The Associated Press, which he served as president for 38 years.

Report on Atom Farm Experiments Due Soon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The first major results of atomic energy experiments on farm problems probably will be available to farmers in time for the 1949 growing season.

This was announced today at a meeting of 40 farm scientists, most of them from state agricultural colleges. They came here to prepare a 1949 farm research program using new atomic "tools."

Scientists have hinted farmers may expect new information concerning the use of phosphorous fertilizers. That's where atomic energy enters the picture.

BIDS ALL-TIME HIGH FOR CHAMPION STEER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 2—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition was sold today for an all-time high price of $10.75 a pound. The higher previous price was $10.50 at the 1946 show.

The 1200-pound, estimated, Aberdeen-Angus, "Old Gold," which won the grand championship for C. E. Yoder and Sons, Muscatine, Ia., was bought by Glenn McCarthy president of the Shamrock Hotel, Houston, Tex.

McCarthy, wealthy Texas business man, said the steer will be served customers for the opening of the new hotel March 17.

Cattle buyers at the ringside said they never had witnessed such an auction before. The auctioneer, Col. Roy Johnston, Belton, Mo., started the sale with an initial bid of $1 a pound. It progressed slowly to $2.25 where it remained for sometime while Johnston attempted to stir up greater interest.

After much coaxing Johnston succeeded in getting a $5 bid from McCarthy. After a jump to $7.75, Johnston pleaded for a new record high, suggesting a price to top the 1946 mark. After a conference among associates, McCarthy gave the nod that he was willing to pay the record price.

Bricker Appointed New OSU Trustee

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2 — Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today named John W. Bricker, former governor who now is junior U. S. senator from Ohio, a trustee of Ohio State university.

Bricker succeeds Herbert S. Atkinson, who advised the governor yesterday he could not continue as a trustee. The term runs until May, 1955.

ROUTE 42 SPAN COLLAPSES IN TRUCK MISHAP

Water and Gas Supplies Cut Off as Line's Mains Are Snapped.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Dec. 2—Fuel gas and water supply in this Morrow county village of 1,300 persons was disrupted early today when the route 42 bridge spanning the Whetstone creek here collapsed under a loaded motor express van.

In going down, the 110-foot steel truss span took with it the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. feeder line and a municipal water main serving about 75 homes on the eastern edge of the village. The collapse occurred at 6:30 a. m.

Mayor P. A. Richeson estimated about 65 per cent of the village homes used gas for cooking. Restaurants were closed until service could be restored. Company officials told the mayor that gas supply would be restored by Friday morning.

Uses Wells, Cisterns

Residents on the east side of the village were resorting to wells and cisterns. The break did not affect supply from the village waterworks available to the rest of the community. Most of the town including the waterworks is located west of the break, leaving the town with fire protection, the mayor said.

Driver of the semi-tractor trailer owned by the Kaeshin Motor Express Co. of Chicago, was Ralph R. Cross, 35, of Cleveland. He and an unidentified companion escaped with lacerations of the legs and bruises.

The state highway patrol indicated the truck slid on frosty pavement as it approached the bridge and struck the guy wires supporting the floor of the structure the vehicle reached the midpoint in the bridge when the collapse occurred.

The east end of the span dropped down dumping the merchandise-loaded trailer into the stream while the cab clung precariously to the tilted and twisted flooring.

Road Blocked Off

Cardington police blocked off traffic on the heavily traveled main artery until detour route signs were posted by the state highway department. Division headquarters at Delaware rerouted traffic east out of Cardington on Route 529 and north into Mt. Gilead. Engineers from that office indicated it would be two weeks before traffic could be restored.

The highway patrol is investigating a report that a second truck may have figured in the bridge collapse, patrolmen indicated.

Mayor Richeson likewise indicated an unidentified truck was thought to have slid into the bridge while crossing about five minutes prior to the collapse. It was reported the truck stopped at the outskirts of the village when a wheel dropped off.

Richeson theorized the truck may have struck and weakened a girder in the bridge to the extent it gave way when the loaded Keashin Co. truck swung onto it.

Approach at Angle

The bridge, due to a sharp angle approach from the east, has been the scene of numerous traffic accidents including several fatalities the mayor indicated adding that it is not uncommon to have several big trucks graze the bridge in the space of a week's time in negotiating the turn.

Only a week ago, two cars met head-on on the bridge despite its 24 foot width, he reported in pointing out the difficulty in negotiating the approach.

The bridge itself is an old structure, built about 1890, state highway department men said. It carried both Ohio Fuel Gas company and Cardington water lines. The former were strung under the sides of the span and the water main on top. Both were snapped when the bridge went down.

Cardington water plant was shut off the water supply to the east end of town shortly after the crash. Gas company welding crews were sent from Mansfield to repair the line and restore gas service to about 500 Cardington subscribers.

SAYS PRICES LEVELING OFF

Truman's Economic Advisory Council Reports Brightening Situation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—President Truman's economic advisory council informed him today there has been a "flattening out of some prices."

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, the chairman, called at the White House to give Mr. Truman a report on the group studies.

Afterward, he told reporters he advised Mr. Truman the price to be brightening.

He added:

"They (prices) don't seem to be jumping through the ceiling."

The chairman of the advisory council recently was named by by Mr. Truman to head a cabinet coordinating committee to plan the anti-inflation program which the administration will submit to the new congress next month.

Shows Truman Graphs

Nourse came from Mr. Truman's office carrying a batch of charts and graphs on the price situation. He said he had gone over them with the President.

Nourse said the charts record a "creeping advance" in the rent field, but show "food has had quite a down turn and is now moving down at a somewhat slower rate."

As for clothing, he said "there has been a softening (of prices) on quite a number of clothing items."

Asked whether the current situation added up to a more encouraging picture of the price situation, Nourse replied:

"I think so."

He added, in reply to another question, that Mr. Truman "was very much gratified" by his report "because he is deeply concerned" by the price situation.

In fact, Nourse added, it is "his very first concern."

Nourse also said if military spending in the next fiscal year should be pushed up beyond the proposed $15,000,000,000 that would increase inflationary pressure.

He made the same point early

Worn Shaft Stops Courthouse Clock

Puzzled Marionites have been wondering for the past two days why the big clock atop the courthouse has rung the hours correctly throughout the day and night while keeping its hands firmly set at 5:15 regardless of the actual time.

"The Big Clock Mystery" was cleared up today by Walter Guthrie, clerk of the Marion county board of commissioners.

"The shaft on the courthouse clock is worn out so the clock mechanism won't move the hands on the four faces", Mr. Guthrie said.

"Folks will just have to use their watches until engineers of the Tower Clock Co. get here from Springfield to replace the clock shaft and bushings. The clock is still striking the right time so you can tell what the right time is once every hour. The clock engineers were called as soon as the hands stopped moving but we do not know when they will get here to do this repair job", Mr. Guthrie concluded.

500 Go On Strike At Columbus Plant

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—Five hundred production employes of the Clark Grave Vault Co., went on strike today. They rejected a company offer of a 10-cent hourly wage boost.

Members of the CIO United Automobile Workers Local 813 voted the walkout last night, approving a continued demand for a 25-cent hourly pay hike.

The old company-union contract expired last Tuesday.

The firm manufactures refrigerator cases, truck cowlings and stamped metal work for washers in addition to grave vaults.

Dec. 31 Last Day For Farm Aid Applications

Frank G. Montgomery, chairman of the Marion County Agricultural Conservation Association has issued a reminder to Marion county farmers.

Dec. 31, 1948, is the final date for filing 1947 applications under the agricultural conservation program. Regulations require that a notice of the closing date be published in local newspapers at least two weeks before the end of the period. All persons who are eligible to sign 1947 A.C.P. applications, including supplemental applications are requested to sign their applications properly and mail or send them to the local association office before Dec. 31, 1948, Mr. Montgomery concluded.

The population of Liberia in Western Africa includes about 12,000 descendants of freed slaves from the United States.

Predicts Discovery Soon Of Radioactive Antidote

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Dec 2—A scientist predicted today that within this generation science will produce a vaccine or some other antidote for radioactive poisoning, one of after-effects of an atomic bomb.

Dr Robert D. Boche of the University of Chicago's institute of radiology and biophysics made the prediction on the sixth anniversary of the dawn of the atomic age.

It was six years ago today that a little group of scientists working in strict secrecy in a room beneath the University of Chicago football stands produced the world's first sustained nuclear chain reaction.

Since then, scientists have been hard at work to counteract the atom's unleashed fury Dr. Boche said discoveries within the past few weeks point the way toward immunization from atomic radiation

Track Down Cause of Death

Dr Boche said experiments at the University of Chicago indicate that body fluids exposed to radiation are partly responsible for death. Dr Boche said he has subjected billions of primitive, single-celled organisms to radiation.

Many survived, he said. But when these "healthy" cells were dipped into a fluid which had been subjected to radiation, they died. This indicates, he said, that something which kills is produced in the body fluids by exposure to radiation. The problem now is to determine the substance and find an antidote.

"I think we can discover the antidote in our lifetime," he said. "We are not faced by a dark, supernatural problem, but a chemical problem which will take time and patience to solve.

"But we feel we are on the right track to help establish a defense agains this serious danger. Once the cause of radioactive illness is determined accurately, the cure will follow."

Dr. Boche, 36, said he expects "to be around to see it."

Form of Antidote

The antidote, he said, may be in the form of a vaccination or a prophylactic after exposure.

"It may even be in the form of a pill," he said, "which would make it quite simple."

No elaborate "birthday party" was scheduled for the sixth anniversary of the atomic age. But many of the scientists present on that memorable day are at work at the University of Chicago or in the atomic energy commission's Argonne national laboratories.

They recalled how the first atomic pile, made of uranium and graphite blocks, was built on a concrete squash court beneath Stagg field. The pile first was tested on Dec 2, 1942 by its designer Dr Enrico Fermi, a fugitive from Fascist Italy

The successful test paved the way toward making the atom bomb, and ushered in the atomic era. The event was reported in a cryptic telephone call from the university campus to the headquarters of the Manhattan engineering district in Washington The message said

"The Italian navigator has landed—the natives are friendly"

The navigator was Fermi. The reference to the natives meant that the test had worked, that mankind had entered a new age northwest corner of the end zone, his face broke into a wide grin. He turned toward a car parked on the edge of the field and waved. In it was Benny's crippled mother who was watching her boy play his last game As he walked over to her, she attempted to hide her pride when she said, "You ought to be ashamed of yourself—out there with no sox on. You look like a little kid."

Best Ball Carrier

For two years, 1938 and 1939, Sheridan was Notre Dame's most dangerous ball carrier. In high school at Havana, Ill., he was both a track and football star, earning 12 letters and winning a place on the All-State team in his senior year. He came hontestly by his ability to carry the pigskin for Notre Dame on the gridiron. His father, a mailman in Havana, used to play for Western Military academy in southern Illinois even though he was smaller than the five foot, eight inch, 165-pound Benny.

Tonight's dinner is being sponsored by the Inter-Club council and the Harding and St. Mary booster clubs. Starting time is 6:15 p. m. at Moira hall of St. Mary church. Coaches and players of both Harding and St. Mary squads will attend and the three junior high pilots will also be be present.

Says Moral Forces Really Move Nations

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2 — John Foster Dulles, acting chief of the U. S. delegation at the United Nations meeting, said today he was convinced that "moral forces do really influence the conduct of nations."

Dulles, a Presbyterian lay leader, expressed his views in a message read to the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"Our churches," Dulles said in his message, "have a special responsibility both to create strong, intelligent moral judgment and to support the United Nations as an organization which enables such judgments to have world-wide influence."

Dulles originally was on the program to address the convention, but was prevented from coming here because of the UN meeting.

GAS SYSTEM TO GAIN IN FUEL FROM TEXAS

Ohio Company Suppliers To Get Larger Deliveries.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Dec 2 — C I Weaver president of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co, said today the Columbia Gas System will gain 75,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from additional Texas deliveries

Weaver said that would be Columbia's share from increased deliveries announced today by Gardiner Symonds, president of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co

The Tennessee firm supplies Columbia which in turn supplies the Ohio Fuel Gas Co

Weaver said Columbia's daily receipts from the Tennessee line now are 350,000,000 cubic feet

He added the additional gas will "make no immediate change in restrictions on accepting additional gas space heating."

At present, most Ohio Gas companies are barred by the state utilities commission from accepting new heating customers unless they can show sufficient supply to enable them to take on customers without affecting their normal output

"A definite improvement in our ability to render service this winter will result from the additional gas," Weaver continued.

"On extremely cold days it still is probable that curtailments may be necessary."

program worked out now probably would not apply a month from now.

There are no indications that either the economic cooperation administration or the state department has yet presented President Truman specific plans for helping Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists in their battle with the Chinese Reds.

China's desire for swift American action was emphasized by Ambassador Wellington Koo in a speech before the China Institute in New York City late yesterday. The same theme probably will be stressed by Madame Chiang, wife of the Nationalist president who arrived here yesterday. She gave no hint of her plans, however, before going into seclusion at the Leesburg, Va., home of Secretary of State and Mrs. Marshall.

"As the grave situation stands today," Koo said, "time is of the essence. It may be a little late, but it is not too late yet."

NO ODOR OF SANCTITY

By The United Press

OLEAN, N. Y.—Services in the Open Bible church continued serenely despite a strong smell and the arrival of police. Small boys had tossed a dead skunk in through the doorway. A member of the congregation calmly tossed the carcass back outside and when police appeared the churchgoers remained intent on the sermon.

MRS. MARSHALL GREETS MME. CHIANG. Arriving in Washington on the 21st anniversary of her marriage to the president of China to beg for the very life of one of the world's oldest civilizations, Madame Chiang Kai-shek is met at Washington airport by Mrs George C. Marshall (right), wife of the U. S. secretary of state. Madame Chiang flew 11,000 miles to seek further U. S. aid for Communist-threatened China

Paralytic Helpless 3 Days After Wife Dies

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec 2 — An 81year-old paralytic is in critical condition today after lying helpless for three days on the floor of his bedroom while his wife sat dead in a chair in their front room.

Police pieced this account from neighbors and the aged man

Jackson Durlin noticed Monday that he had not heard his wife moving about in their home. He called but got no answer. He tried to go to her but fell under the bed. That's where neighbors found him yesterday.

They found the wife, Mrs Adelaine Durlin, 75, dead in the chair, apparently of a heart attack. Durlin suffered from shock and malnutrition.

Mrs Durlin's son by a former marriage is Capt. Paul Cronk, skipper of the Coast Guard cutter Bibb who a year ago directed rescue of 69 persons in the Atlantic from the downed flying boat, Bermuda Sky Queen.

Ike's Favorite Recipe Added To Cook Book

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Amateur Chef Dwight D. Eisenhower has contributed his favorite recipe for vegetable soup to Columbia university's new cook book.

Mere reading of the 650-word recipe makes your mouth water. But it takes two days to cook the concoction.

The general's masterpiece appears in "What's Cooking at Columbia," published yesterday. The book, first issued in 1942, contains favorite recipes of more than 200 Columbia faculty members.

The first day's operations involve making a stock out of chicken bits, a soup bone (the bigger the better), soup meat (beef or mutton or both), and garlic (small piece) or onion.

After this has simmered all day, some of the more decrepit pieces of meat "can be given to your dogs, or young neighbor's chickens."

The stock should be kept very cool—"outdoors in the wintertime or in the icebox"—overnight and next day "until you are ready to make your soup."

After removal of part or all of the layer of fat, the real soup making begins. You add a wide variety of vegetables and barley—one by one so that each cooks just the right length of time. Then come the herbs and condiments. Put back the good pieces of meat you lifted out the night before.

Then—if you're not too tired—you eat it.

Shanghai Prices Take Tumble After Rumor

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Dec. 2 — Prices tumbled in Shanghai today following rumors that the Central Bank of China was shipping out its gold bullion.

The rumors — wholly unconfirmed—started when the Shanghai garrison blockaded the Bund (Shanghai's main thoroughfare) last night. Even persons carrying curfew passes were not permitted to pass through.

A number of coolies were observed moving heavy boxes from the Central Bank to a ship tied up to a dock opposite the bank.

PERSISTENT FOG LIFTS IN BRITAIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec 2—One of the most persistent fogs in a generation, lifting from Britain and most of western Europe today

For days the fog-bound mails had piled up Britain's air and sea transport from the East Portugal, and traffic had been fouled up since last weekend

British forecasters predicted a few hours of mild weather for today to be followed by rain and strong winds from a 70-mile gale sweeping the west coast.

With the clearing weather, some sections of the allied airlift to Berlin resumed operation Four loading bases in the British zone opened up but Frankfurt and Wiesbaden, in the American zone, remained fogged in

A thick, yellow murk persisted in Prague but the mist was lifting outside the city.

With the break in the weather a "Santa Claus fleet" of foodships, most of them tied up in the Thames estuary since last Friday, moved up the river to London

The liner Queen Mary, standing by in Cowes Road since she left Southampton harbor yesterday, lifted an anchor and sailed for Cherbourg to pick up additional passengers for New York.

Social Register Out; Some Get Heave-Ho

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec 2—The New York social register is out with its 1949 edition and, as usual, it gives the heave-ho to some folk, while welcoming others into the fold

The news about who is "in" and who is "out" caused quite a flutter along the blue-blood circuit.

Among the new names on the list of socially elite is Mrs. Barbara Sears Rockefeller, daughter of a Pennsylvania coal miner, who last February married Winthrop Rockefeller.

The New York register also for the first time lists Gen. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, but the listing was a transfer from the Washington, D. C., book. Eisenhower now is president of Columbia university.

Among those left out of the 1949 edition were William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and his new wife, the former Mrs. Barbara Cushing Mortimer of Boston. They were married last July, following his divorce.

Priest Says Tojo Has Left "Peace" Message

By International News Service

TOKYO, Dec. 2—A Buddhist priest disclosed today that Hideki Tojo has left a "peace" message for the world and is "grateful" that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has proclaimed a "day of prayer" on the date of the war crimes executions.

The priest, Nobukatsu Hanayama, said that Japan's "Pearl Harbor premier" has dictated a last message to him pleading to the world for peace and emphasizing the futility of war.

Hanayama said he will release the text of the message after the executions of Tojo and six other war criminals take place.

TRAIN WRECKS HOUSE

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2—A Reading railroad freight train jacknifed today and wrecked an unoccupied three-story house. Four persons living next door awoke thinking an earthquake had struck the city. Two were hurt and two suffered shock as they fled from the house.

DOCTOR OF YEAR—Former minor league baseball player and manager and a physician for 32 years, Dr. William L. Pressly of Due West, S. C., has been chosen the outstanding family doctor of the year by the American Medical association, meeting in St. Louis. Dr. Pressly, 61, recalls he had delivered 4,200 babies since he began practice in Due West. He used the money he made playing baseball to go to medical school.

TORRANCE REELECTED BY INSURANCE MEN

Election Features Social and Business Meeting.

A combined business and social meeting was held last night by the Marion County Association of Insurance Agents at the Snyder Hotel. The occasion was the annual meeting of the organization and the members were joined by their wives for a dinner served in the Blue Room. During the business session held by the men, the women were entertained with games and contests in the Jade room.

J. D Torrance was reelected president and William A Sladden vice president and Ralph G Williams secretary-treasurer of the association for the coming year. Trustees elected are Robert S Kraner and George Stafford. Four new members were enrolled in the association representing the Harry S Hammond, John H Mills and McAndrea & McAndrea insurance agencies.

Present were Mr and Mrs James F Lauer of Prospect, Mr and Mrs J D Torrance, Mr and Mrs R G Williamson, Mr and Mrs J W Llewellyn, Mr and Mrs John Smith, Mr and Mrs Earl Andreas, Mr and Mrs George Stafford, Mr and Mrs Ralph Simpson, Mr and Mrs Howard Lawson, Mr and Mrs George Orians, Mr and Mrs A W Kettle, Mr and Mrs L H Taylor, Mr and Mrs Henry S Kraner, Mr and Mrs Robert S Kraner, Mr and Mrs Harry Hammond, P H Nedig and Edward McAndrea.

Arrangements were made by a committee in charge of Ralph Simpson for the entertainment of the guests, assisted by Mrs George Stafford and Mrs Ralph Simpson.

Five More Candidates Initiated by Eagles

Five more candidates were initiated into the Eagles Hoover Aerie last night, bringing the total number of new members brought in during November to 50 and 132 for the last six months. This number is just four short of the lodge's yearly quota in its membership drive.

At the meeting held in honor of George Hammon, vice president, five more applications were read. This class will be initiated Dec. 29. Plans for the second half of the years drive ending June 1 will be discussed at the next meeting of the lodge Dec. 8.

Ed Pheasant, entertainment chairman, announced that there will be a dance at the lodge Saturday night and entertainment in the social rooms Friday night. Entertainment for the Children's Christmas party Dec. 20 will be furnished by local talent headed by Lester Watts, announced James Lewis, chairmen of arrangements for the party.

NEW DAVEY PORTRAIT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—A new portrait of the late Gov. Martin L. Davey, painted by Albert Dick of Cleveland, was placed in the reception room of the governor's office yesterday. The painting replaces one removed at the request of the Davey family.

J. K. STAATS NAMED SALES-AD CLUB HEAD

New Officers Announced at First December Meeting.

J. K. Staats, managing editor of The Star, was elected president of the Sales-Ad Club of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, it was announced at the first December luncheon meeting of the club held at noon yesterday at Hotel Harding. Mr. Staats will take office Jan. 1, 1949.

Assisting him in guiding club operations during the coming year will be M. V. Cornell, sales manager of the Marion Power Shovel Co., who was elected vice president. Other vice presidents elected were Clark L. Dever, sales promotion manager of the Marion Broadcasting Co., and Chauncey J. Lake, account executive of the Jay H. Walsh Co.

The incoming officers were introduced by LeRoy Clauer, present president of the club.

Guest speaker at yesterday's meeting was Ernest L. Little, president of Research Associates of Columbus, who spoke on new developments in agriculture, industry and science. A feature of Mr. Little's address was a display of many newly developed products some of which have not as yet reached the market for public distribution.

Guests at yesterday's Sales-Ad meeting were R. W. Butts of the Ohio Public Service Co., C. H. Bachelder of the Standard Oil Co., Ralph West of the Great A. & P. Tea Co., Charles E. Jen-

ICE MADE INSIDE OUT BY NEW MACHINE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—A new machine makes cakes of ice one after the other by freezing them inside out.

The machine, just a contraption now 12 feet high, is to be on display at the Watts Laboratories of the University of Texas.

The new machine was invented by Dr. John R. Watt, assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Texas. He described it today to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Water sits in cold water at the bottom of a huge tank, wider at the top than the bottom. Using refrigerants, a small amount of water is quickly frozen as a core. A ram pushes inside up an eighth of an inch, and more water floods around it as the tank widens. The column of ice grows fatter layer by layer as it rises up and out the top of the tank. The freezing is the reverse of nature's process of freezing from the outside to the inside.

CHURCHES MAY JOIN COUNCIL

Quaker, Rumanian Orthodox Denominations May Be Last Groups Admitted.

By the Associated Press

[illegible] Virtually every Protestant denomination in the nation [illegible] federal council [illegible] action would be automatic, operating only [illegible] Dr. [illegible] chairman of the [illegible] committee [illegible] consideration today would be greeted by [illegible]

Includes 25 Groups

The federal council when now includes 25 denominations with 28,000,000 members, meets every two years.

The Rumanian Orthodox Church in America with 21,000 members and the Religious Society of Friends of Philadelphia and Vicinity with some 5,000 members are expected to be approved as federal council members without opposition this afternoon.

Balloting on the prospective new members highlighted second-day activities at the 40th annual convention. Most of the day was devoted to continued discussions of church responsibilities on problems ranging from juvenile delinquency to plans for a united evangelistic advance.

Dr. Wilhelm Pauck, dean of Yale divinity school, won convention approval of his committee's report without a dissenting vote.

Seventeen of the federal council's U. S. members—with a total membership of some 25,000,000—have voted for the merger. Those who have taken no action have roughly 3,700,000 members.

Proposed Merger

The proposed merger would link the Federal Council, the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, Home Missions Council of North America, International Council of Religious Education, Missionary Education Movement of the United States and Canada, National Protestant Council on Higher Education, United Council of Church Women, and the United Stewardship Council.

J. Leighton Stuart, American ambassador to China, and John Foster Dulles, acting chief of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, sent messages to the council today. Both had been scheduled to address the convention.

Stuart, in his message said no Asiatic government could survive the Communist menace unless it did a better job of improving the common people's welfare.

Federal Council To Honor Branch Rickey

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Baseball club, will be honored tonight by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America for his work in improving inter-racial relations.

Leaders of the council, largest Protestant group in America, said it would mark the first time in the council's 40-year history that a sports figure has been singled out for a testimonial.

Rickey gave Jack Robinson a chance to play with the Dodgers two years ago. Robinson thus became the first Negro to play in the major leagues.

Rickey will receive a scroll during a banquet winding up second-day sessions at the three-day biennial conference.

HINTS POSTOFFICE DUE FOR SHAKEUP

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) hinted today the postoffice department is one of the chief targets of the bi-partisan commission studying government reorganization.

Brown, a member of the 12-man commission on organization of the executive branch of the government, told the 53rd annual congress of American industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers:

"Without divulging too much information as to what the commission will recommend, let me suggest that you keep your eyes open for some interesting developments in our greatest 'service' service agency—the postoffice department."

The three-day session ends tomorrow night with a speech by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. He hinted in Washington Tuesday night he might disclose some details of the anti-inflation program President Truman will give to congress in January.

Former President Herbert Hoover heads the government organization commission that was set up by congress.

Threat of Swim Suit Brings Quick Action

By The United Press

MONTEREY, Calif.—A disgruntled Monterey woman threatened the city council with a suit—a bathing suit.

Ester Lace, a swimming instructor, told the city fathers that if the storm sewer in front of her house was not fixed, she would appear at the next council meeting wearing a swim suit. Mayor Hugh Dormody promised speedy action.

DAYTON WON'T BE BLACK WITH B-29'S

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The Air Force scotched today an idea that the sky over Dayton, O., will be black with B-29 formations starting next Monday.

That impression was gained from statements by officials of Wright-Patterson field here about [illegible] being run over Dayton during a Sunday period beginning Dec. 6.

Air Force headquarters here said the practice will be by individual bombers. The announcement added:

"It is doubtful . . . that Dayton residents will see or hear the aircraft as they will be at an approximate altitude of 25,000 feet and will make the simulated [illegible] day and [illegible] weather conditions. [illegible] be carried. Formations [illegible] be flown. Normally [illegible] B-29 will be over the city within the vicinity at any one time."

Accuracy of the simulated bombing will be recorded by a mobile radar bomb-scoring unit. The unit picks up the bombers, follows them through to the target and notes the instant of release for the bombs.

B-29's from Rapid City, S. D., Merced, Calif.; Tucson, Ariz.; Roswell, N. M.; Fort Worth, Texas; and Tampa, Fla., will participate in the exercises.

PASS INCOME TAX

By The United Press

DAYTON, Dec. 2—The city commission passed a one-half per cent personal, net profits and corporation net profits tax last night which is expected to produce $2,375,000 annually. Commission officials said the tax would be levied against all persons living or working in the city and on all corporations within the city limits.

Couple Married 55 Years Ago

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH MAY

Sunday will mark the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph May of Caledonia. In observance of the event, a family dinner will be held at noon at the May home, and in the afternoon the couple will hold open house to their friends from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. May have been residents of Caledonia since 1909, and Mr. May has been in the hardware business there, operating the May Hardware Co., for nearly 40 years. Prior to starting his own business, Mr. May was connected with a hardware store in Waldo. He also spent several years as a school teacher before becoming a hardware merchant.

Mrs. May before her marriage was Miss Nora B. Utter. The couple's marriage took place Dec. 5, 1893, at Cardington. Both were born and reared near there.

The celebrants, members of the Caledonia Church of Christ, are active in church, lodge and civic work.

A special guest present for the celebration will be 94-year-old Mrs. Mary Jack of Delaware, who was present at the May's wedding 55 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. May have five children, Merrill May of Cleveland, Harold May of Cleveland, Mrs. J. H. (Hazel) Miles of Cleveland, Mrs. J. A. (Pearl) Coldwell of Caledonia, and Mrs. James (Leona) Lingo of Shelby. They also have six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

SAYS OHIO CAN'T RELEASE FUGITIVE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—Common Pleas Judge Charles J. McNamee holds that an Ohio court cannot legally release a convict fugitive from another state.

He delivered the opinion yesterday in denying freedom to Frederick Fox, 21, of Cleveland, who escaped from a Florida road gang, and two Alabama fugitives.

All three claimed they had been subjected to prison cruelty, but Judge McNamee said this did not alter the legal circumstances.

"To grant a writ (of habeas corpus) here would be to commute the sentence of a sister state," he ruled.

Fox recently was ordered extradited by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, but his attorney filed a writ of habeas corpus here when he was taken into custody.

The Alabama road camp fugitives are Eugene Quillian, 27, of Birmingham, and Robert Woodall, 31-year-old Cleveland Negro. Quillian, who had served six of 10 years for robbery, said prison guards had set dogs on him, while Woodall claimed his face was smashed for refusing to eat spoiled food.

LIE DETECTOR TEST CLEARS RACE DRIVER

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2 — Police said today that a lie detector test had cleared John Taylor, 70-year-old London, O., race horse owner, of all charges of "doping" his horse for a winning race at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.

Taylor, associated with harness racing for more than 40 years, underwent a lie detector test at his own request at the Columbus police station yesterday to establish his innocence.

Officials of the U. S. Trotting Association, which has headquarters here, said results of the test satisfied them that Taylor was not guilty.

CHARTERS PRESENTED TO LEGION GROUPS

Official Presentation Made to Two Groups Wednesday.

Permanent charters were presented to Marion GI Post No 584, American Legion, and the Auxiliary unit to the post Wednesday night in official presentation ceremonies held at a joint meeting of the two groups Wednesday night in the post club rooms. About 100 American Legion post and auxiliary members and guests from Marion and other posts in the state were present.

The post charter was presented by D. J. MacDonald, a member of Bird-McGinnis Post No 185 and past first vice president of the Sixth district. It was accepted for the post by William Payette, commander, in behalf of William Rizor, a past commander, who was unable to be present. Commander Payette gave a brief account of post activities, and Mr. MacDonald spoke briefly and commended the post on work done in the past for the American Legion.

Mrs. William Tuskes, president of the auxiliary unit, introduced Mrs. Gail Baldwin of Marysville, Sixth District president, who made the presentation of the auxiliary charter to Mrs. Gerald Messenger, junior past president of the unit. Mrs. Baldwin gave a talk on the purpose of the American Legion auxiliary and its program, and led the auxiliary members in repeating their pledge.

Other brief talks were given as a part of the program by Carl R. Paulson of Mt. Vernon Post No 136, Sixth District commander, Victor Wick of Waldo, a member of Porter-Snyder Post No 603 and Marion county Legion commander; Gail Baldwin of Marysville, past Sixth District commander; John V. Ruth, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post No 182, J. Albert Dripps, past commander of Bird-McGinnis Post, H. M. Hendrick of Toledo, commander of Toledo Post No. 335, Fred H. Roth of Marysville, commander of Marysville Post No. 79, Mrs. R. W. Brown, president of Bird-McGinnis auxiliary unit, Mrs. Don DeLong, junior past president of the Bird-McGinnis auxiliary, and Mrs. H. H. Long, president of the auxiliary to Verne I. Mounts post No. 368 of Prospect.

Also introduced were other present and past officers, Willie L. Huffins of Prospect Post No 368, Robert W. Brown of Bird-McGinnis post, Floyd Ireland of Mt. Vernon Post No 136, Mrs. Elta Trickey, Mrs. Geneva Dripps, Mrs. William Arndt and Mrs. Chester B. Morris of Bird-McGinnis post auxiliary, Mrs. L. G. Thrall of Marysville Auxiliary No. 79, and Mrs. Ada Mower and Mrs. H. C. Lane of Prospect Auxiliary.

Following the meeting, a social hour was held with Mrs. Jane Joyce unit activities chairman, and her committee in charge.

Five Marion Students On OSU Honor Roll

Five Marion students at Ohio State university in Columbus have been named on honor rolls for the summer quarter recently announced at the university. Those named on the honor rolls must have an average of 3.25 or better.

In the College of Arts and Sciences, four students from Marion, Alan D. Swain, Richard H. Smith, Mary L. Hemmerly and Clyde H. Hosey, were included on the list. Phillip F. DeSanto of Marion and three others from this area, James L. Fisher of Cardington, Richard C. Klingel of Crestline, and Grover H. Chamberlain of Kenton, are included on the roll of the College of Commerce and Administration.

OHIO HOUSE GOP STRONG MINORITY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec 2—Republicans to sit in the 98th general assembly Jan. 3 promised today to make the most of their "strong minority."

C. William O'Neill of Marietta, house speaker in the present legislature who will become the minority leader, told a caucus of the house Republicans who were not knocked out of office in the Democratic sweep in the elections:

"We must support sound principles of government and always support constructive policies. The minority is so strong that we can see to it that we have sound government in Ohio with the help of the Republicans in the senate."

Rep. L. P. Moloney of Hocking county followed his plea by urging all Republicans to get to all house sessions. Pointing to the close 69-66 majority the Democrats won, he said:

"Anything can happen any day."

He noted that Republicans could take temporary control of the house if only two Democrats missed a session.

Sixty-eight votes, or a bare majority of the elected membership, will be needed to pass a bill. Any emergency legislation proposed by Democrats will need strong Republican support since 90 votes will be needed.

The new senate will have 19 Democrats and 14 Republicans, against the present 32 Republicans to four Democrats.

Mother, Daughter In Freak Drowning

By The Associated Press

WAUSEON, O., Dec. 2 — A farmer's wife and her two-year-old daughter drowned in 18 inches of water yesterday after they were pinned in a shallow ditch by an overturned wagonload of corn.

Victims of the freak accident were Mrs. Eugene Pontius, 27, and her daughter, Judy

Mrs. Pontius, her son William, 4 and Judy, were riding in the wagon which was being pulled by a corn picker.

At the end of the field the wagon overturned in the ditch, trapping Mrs Pontius and her two children Pontius raised the wagon enough to allow his son to crawl out. The mother and daughter were removed later after help arrived, but they were dead.

BROODED OVER MACHINES

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 2 — John Frankart, 48, despondent since the death of a horse in his care, shot and killed himself yesterday, coroner William H Benner reported. Frankart, a laborer on the farm of the Sisters of Precious Blood at New Riegel, brooded over mechanization of farms, Coroner Benner said

BRITISH PAPER LIKES OHIO HOUSING PLAN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 2—The Manchester Guardian would like to see some American grass roots enterprise tried out over here in the housing field, "if only to know what would happen."

The newspaper reports on the initiative taken at Wilmington college in Ohio to build a new dormitory for students who were driven to live in huts and shacks on the campus, because the college could find neither money nor labor to put up new housing.

The report said undergraduates and faculty members pitched in to the job themselves, while building concerns contributed materials. The Guardian had this to say:

"It is a heartening story—an instance of the spirit which makes the United States a great country to live in. Why can't we do that here? It is not hard to think of answers—excuses, anyway.

"Raw materials are hard to come by. The best will in the world will not conjure up joists and rafters in this timber-starved country, and the builders would lean less on the benevolence of local magnates than on the priority ratings of the ministry of works.

"Nor can one be sure what would be the reaction of the building trade workers at the sight of the amateurs taking the bricks out of their hands, so to say.

"For all that, it would be good to see someone try the project, if only to know what would really happen."

With a quick thrust of its tongue, a chameleon can snare an insect 10 inches away.

MEMORY COURSE

Bobbie's grandmother, who lived across the street, asked him over for breakfast one morning.

"I've bought your favorite hot cereal," she told him. "Someday when I'm dead and gone, you can remember that Grandmother made you a nice little bowlful of Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal."

After a moment's thought, Bobbie said, "Why don't you make it a big bowlful, Grandmother, so I'll remember you twice as long?"

Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal cooks in 3½ minutes. It's rich in nourishment. Get a box today.

With Schacht Now It's One Trial After Another

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—For a man of a half century Dr Hialmar Schacht couldn't stay out of banks Now he can't stay out of courts The high-collared deposed banker is in a fair way to becoming the most-tried man in history The Stuttgart deNazification ministry says it will try him again as a major Nazi offender He was Hitler's minister of economics and president of the Reichsbank He was convicted once and sentenced to eight years A German appeal court set that aside The ministry of deNazification appealed from the appeal and has the power under the deNazification law to keep trying a man as long as it doesn't like the decision

U S Official View

Theo Hall chief of the American deNazification branch for military government, says the U S official position is that it is playing hands off in the Schacht affair Nevertheless Charles M LaFollette, U S military governor at Stuttgart hailed the German ministry's decision to retry the banker as a good thing He said it showed a German determination "to stamp out" Nazi taint

Schacht is out of jail for the first time since 1944 The banker, now in his seventies, still possesses the mental and physical vigor that carried him to the top of the financial world of Europe many years ago He is the man who pulled Germany out of her unbelievable financial chaos in the early 1920's and was Hitler's logical choice for his cabinet in 1933.

Says He Left Hitler

Schacht says he stopped playing Hitler's game in 1938. It is true he shut off more funds for armaments then Soon he was out as president of the Reichsbank Walter Funk took it over and now is serving life as a war criminal

In 1944, the Nazi security police took Schacht into tow as politically unreliable and threw him into Flossenburg concentration camp He was liberated by American troops, only to go into the jug again as a war crimes defendant. At Nuernberg, in the trial of the "big 21," Schacht won an acquittal. As soon as he moved to Stuttgart, the Germans grabbed him and he was in jail again for trial as a Nazi.

Fighting Temperament

Schacht has maintained the most bristling kind of defense. He said he was anti-Nazi, usually shouted it. His fierce temper cuts loose at will with a fine disregard of whom it is aimed at

The Germans don't particularly like Schacht, but they don't quite understand how he can continue to be going on trial all the time To them it is an unnecessary stirring up of past issues. It also is a little baffling to them as they see their own neighborhood Nazis back in the neighborhood.

MAIN ST. IS CLOSED FOR CROSSING WORK

Erie Railroad Crews Begin Repair Work.

City police posted no parking signs along the south side of Mill street bordering the NYC railroad from North State to North Prospect street as Erie railroad maintenance crews closed off the Main street Erie crossing for repairs

A police spokesman said today the rebuilding of the Main street crossing is expected to require at least a week to complete and that North Main street would be closed at that point until the job is done

A large "street closed" sign has been installed at the north side of the Main and Center street intersection by state road crews to divert traffic on highways 4 and 23 over North State street until the repair and rebuilding of the crossing is completed.

Erie crossing building crews completed the reconstruction of the North State street Erie crossing one week ago

LEGLESS EX-RAILMAN FACES BIG DECISION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—A legless former railroad brakeman has a $75,000 decision to make in the next nine days

The ex-brakeman is Earl D Bartlebaugh of Columbus, who won a $225,000 judgment from the Pennsylvania railroad for the loss of his legs in an accident The common pleas court judgment was the largest ever given in such a case

The Ohio supreme court ruled yesterday that he must either accept a reduced judgment of $150,000 or have the suit retried in Franklin county common pleas court. He was given ten days to decide.

The supreme court said in its unusual ruling that the first jury might have been misled by evidence of the cost of a refund annuity introduced in evidence by Bartlebaugh's counsel, Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert.

"The cost of a refund annuity," the court held, "does not correctly measure the loss of future earning power"

VFW Post Auxiliary Initiates 3 Candidates

Three candidates for membership were initiated at a meeting of the Auxiliary to Geran-Thomas Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday night in the post club rooms on Court street. A donation was voted to be given to the Ohio Cottage at Eaton Rapids, Mich., for the children's Christmas entertainment.

Plans were furthered for a Christmas party for "kiddies" to be held Dec. 18 in the club rooms under the sponsorship of the VFW post, the auxiliary and the Salvation Army. Plans were made for a bazaar and Christmas party to be held at the next auxiliary meeting, Dec 15.

NEW CHICAGO CONDUCTOR?

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 2—Edward L Ryerson, president of the Chicago Orchestral association, said today the German conductor, Wilhelm Furtwaengler, is being considered as conductor of the Chicago symphony Ryerson said the orchestra has been communicating with the conductor of the Berlin philharmonic and has offered him a post as permanent or part-time conductor.

CLINTON CO. FARMER HEADS FARM BUREAU

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 22—Robert Peele who farms 270 acres of Clinton county ground near S... is the new president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Trustees of the big cooperative organization claiming a membership of 60,000 farm families elected him yesterday over two other candidates.

The other two, Harold P. Richards of Strongsville, Cuyahoga county, and James H. West of Perry, Lake county, were then given other offices.

West was named vice president and Richards treasurer as the federation's 30th annual meeting closed.

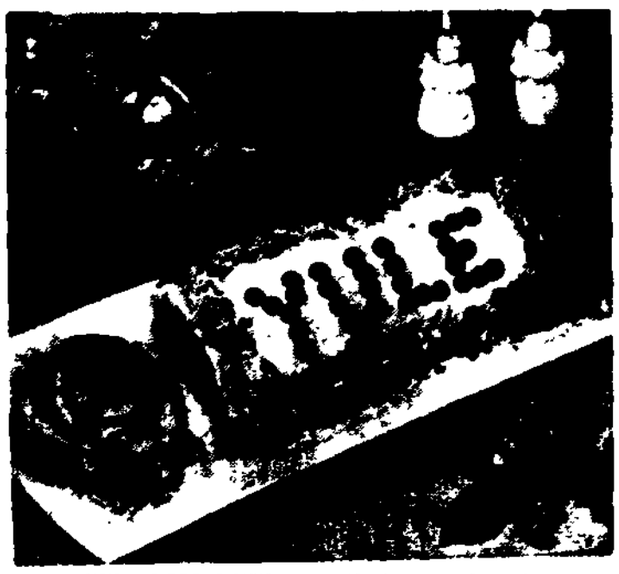
Peelle, who succeeds Perry L. Green of Mantua, Portage county, is a former president of the Clinton county Farm Bureau. Green is retiring officially Jan. 1, but handed over the gavel to Peelle in the closing sessions of yesterday's meeting.

TO HEAD HEART CAMPAIGN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—President Howard L. Bevis of Ohio State university will head the central Ohio Heart association campaign next Feb. 7-28, it was announced yesterday. The drive will be part of a national campaign to raise funds for a program of research, education and community services to fight heart disease.

Festive Holiday Desserts



YULE ROLL CAKE . . . . Centerpiece Dessert.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to prepare a festive dessert that tastes as good as it looks for a holiday meal or party, try the Yule Roll Cake pictured here. For a dinner, a tea, or a buffet supper it will not only make a scrumptious dessert but will serve as a lovely centerpiece. Here's how to do it.

Yule Roll Cake

Ingredients: 4 eggs, ¾ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup sifted cake flour, ¾ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, Butter cream frosting (recipe follows), 1 package semi-sweet chocolate bits, toasted coconut.

Method: Beat eggs thoroughly. Add sugar gradually, beating until thick and pale colored. Add vanilla. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Gently fold into egg mixture, blending well. Pour into 10x15-inch cake pan that has been greased and lined with waxed paper that has also been greased. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 degrees F. for about 12 to 15 minutes. Turn cake out immediately on a towel that has been sprinkled with sifted confectioners' sugar. Trim edges and roll up. Prepare one recipe of butter cream frosting. Reserve one-third cup of frosting for top of cake. To remaining frosting add one-half package semi-sweet chocolate bits, that have been melted over hot water and cooled. Unroll cake and spread with chocolate mixture. Reroll and frost outside of cake with the white frosting. Spell the word YULE on top of cake with whole chocolate bits and sprinkled edges of cake with toasted coconut. Makes one 9-inch cake roll.

Butter Cream Frosting

Ingredients: 4 tablespoons butter, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 to 4 tablespoons milk.

Method: Cream butter, sugar, salt and vanilla thoroughly together. Add milk gradually, beating until mixture is smooth and of spreading consistency.

If you are thinking of buying yourself a new cookbook to help with your holiday entertaining, you won't go wrong with "At Home on the Range," by Margaret Yardley Potter (Lippincott, Philadelphia and New York, ($2.75). The author of this delightful little book of good food talk and recipes says she learned "how to cook and entertain the hard way." With a tradition of formal Philadelphia party food behind her — two children, no cooking experience, and little help in front of her—she learned from scratch how to prepare some of the most delicious, but easiest, of the dishes she had known. When you work out a way of entertaining so that it is no burden to you or your family, she says, you can give guests a heartfelt welcome. "At Home on the Range" lets you into the author's secrets.

For afternoon or evening holiday snacks try Mrs. Potter's Shrimp Paté or her Ham Puffs. They'll help to make any party a success. The Shrimp Paté can be readied beforehand. But encourage your mom or teen-age daughter to take a hand with the Ham Puffs. If she rehearses their making beforehand (let her try them on the family), she will be so proud the day of the party when she brings in her handiwork from the kitchen—baked to a golden brown, delectable to taste, to offer them to your guests.

Shrimp Paté — Remove the black veins from 2 cups of canned or cooked shelled shrimps and put them twice through the fine cutter of the food chopper. Melt one-quarter cup of butter with 1 crushed clove of garlic. Remove the garlic and add butter to the shrimps. Stir in one-quarter cup of tart mayonnaise, one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon of black pepper, and perhaps a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and tomato catsup. Form into a roll, wrap in wax paper and let season and harden overnight in the refrigerator.

Ham Puffs mustn't be kept waiting. Mix one-half teaspoon of dry mustard with a 4 ounce can of deviled ham. Add one-half cup of finely grated Parmesan cheese and a few grains of cayenne. Fold into the stiffly beaten white of 1 egg. Toast 12 or 15 small rounds of bread on one side. Heap the teaspoonfuls of ham mixture on the toasted side, place on a cooky sheet, and bake 5 minutes in a 450 degree oven.

Kiwanis Complete Yule Decorations at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Yuletide decoration of Bucyrus business district was completed this week by members of the Bucyrus Kiwanis club.

The two large evergreens on the islands on Washington square have been decorated and the traditional church, shepherd and camel scenes placed on the islands.

The front lawn of City hospital is being provided with decorations and 250 evergreen wreaths have been placed on lamp posts throughout the downtown district.

County Auditor Frederick Klein is chairman of the Kiwanis club's decoration committee.

Property damage from lightning in this country ranges around $20 million a year.

The New Governors

Dan Garvey Rises Rapidly To Arizona Governorship

(One of a series of 22 articles on new governors chosen in the November election.)

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec 2 — Governor-elect Dan E Garvey rose to prominence suddenly this year when Governor Sidney P Osborn died

Garvey was secretary of state Arizona has no lieutenant governor, and under Arizona's constitution the secretary of state becomes acting governor upon the death of the governor.

The Arizona supreme court held that Garvey had to continue on the $5,500 annual salary of secretary of state instead of the $10,000 gubernatorial salary However, an amendment was presented in the Nov. 2 election, and in the future, if a governor dies in office the secretary of state succeeds to both the title and the salary

The death of Osborn, unbeatable leader of the Democratic party in Arizona, threw the gubernatorial field wide open for the first time in eight years. Seven candidates, including Garvey, entered the Sept. 7 primary. Some maintain that the few months Garvey spent as acting governor gave him the necessary prominence to win

After his victory Nov 2 over Republican Bruce Brockett, Garvey reiterated that he would follow and expand the policies of Osborn, a friend of labor and advocate of a strong social security program.

Garvey, 62, was born at Vicksburg, Miss He moved to Arizona in 1909 and in 1912 married Thirza Jeanette Vail, daughter of Zach Vail, pioneer rancher. They have a daughter, Dorothy, and a son, Dan E. Garvey Jr

For 18 years Garvey was employed in the clerical and auditing departments of the Southern Pacific railway. He entered politics in 1929 as chief deputy assessor of Pima county (Tucson) Governor Osborn appointed him secretary of state in 1942 when Harry M Moore died in office

Garvey's critics find him unaggressive and colorless His admirers contend his peaceful manner probably will be an asset in dealing with the state legislature The dynamic Osborn usually was at odds with it

HARVESTER CO. FINDS MORE COMPETITION

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Dec 2—More competition for finished products and more difficulty in getting raw materials was reported today by International Harvester Co.

John McCaffrey, president, and Fowler McCormick, chairman, said in their quarterly review, "current experience indicates an increasingly competitive situation on several lines of our products with growing selectivity and price-consciousness on the part of many buyers

"At present this is particularly true of motor trucks, power units and dairy equipment, and we believe the trend may be extended to other products."

However, they said estimated total sales for the 1948 fiscal year were $944,000,000, exceeding actual total sales last year by 27 per cent. Sales for the year set a new record.

The company executives said, "again, we are faced with materials procurement problems. Availability of materials has fluctuated since the war. . . . It now appears that we are in one of the tightest periods we have experienced since the end of the war. Moreover, this situation is likely to continue for many months."

CITIES WORK OUT CASE AGAINST BELL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 2 — Fifteen Ohio cities began today to work out their arguments on why the Ohio Bell Telephone Co should not raise its rates nine per cent

The cities, including Cleveland, Youngstown, and Dayton, are opposing the company's application to the state utilities commission for permission to make the raise The PUCO is holding a public hearing on it.

After the company finished its case yesterday, the PUCO adjourned the hearing until Dec 16 to give the opponents time to prepare their case

The company's last witness was Dr. Herbert B Dorau, professor of economics and chairman of the department of public utilities and transportation in the school of commerce at New York university.

Dr. Dorau told the commission that six per cent would be a fair rate of return on the company's investment. The company claims its present rate is 3.63 per cent

He said there was an urgent need for more capital in the telephone industry while the cost of capital was rising Business in general is operating at high levels of profitableness, he added

Investments in the telephone industry are becoming more risky, he continued, and the industry is in a less favorable economic position than the power industry.

Pleads Guilty To Threatening Truman

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2—A young man pleaded guilty to a charge of threatening the life of President Truman, was sentenced to prison for three years, then told a federal judge he still intends to carry out his threat

Twenty-year-old Dennis E Porter was sentenced yesterday by U. S District Judge Herbert Christenberry

"I feel that President Truman is not adequate to supervise the people of the United States ' Porter said after he was sentenced "And a lot of other people probably feel the same way but don't say so"

Then he added: "The United States doesn't mean anything to me anyhow"

Porter threatened the President's life in a letter sent to the White House It was written while he was in jail at Franklinton, La., serving a sentence for defamation of character.

Harding To Floor Tall Team at Opener Friday

Six-Footers To Start Basketball Season Against Bexley.

By GEORGE SCOTT

Harding will floor a starting team over six feet in its initial test of the 1948-49 basketball season at Bexley tomorrow night, coach Kenny Somerlot said today.

"Yes, we're bigger than last year but it remains to be seen if we're better shots," warned Kenny. He has pretty well decided on his varsity squad for the Bexley opener but the reserve team which will make the trip is yet in doubt. Coach Somerlot will select his complete roster today after considering both ability and attitude.

The two forwards will be Dick Clark and Merle Daum, both lettermen. Clark is a senior and Daum a junior. At center will be Merle's brother, Jack Daum, only sophomore on the varsity squad. Guards will be two out of three Prexies, Dick Thomas, Bill Buckingham, and Dick Wolfe. Thomas has been chosen as captain for the contest. Both he and Buckingham are seniors and Wolfe is a junior.

2nd Team As Good

Coach Somerlot has a second team of almost equal ability and they should see action. This squad consists of Clarence Smith, forward; Tom Ballinger, forward; Roger Andrews, center; and guards Dick Leffler and Don Johnson. All are seniors except Leffler, a junior.

The rest of the men who will travel south will be chosen from Doug Brokaw, Elmore Foos, Don Hoffman, John Zimmerman, Greg Graham, Gene Winters, Dick Mason, Paul Ludwig, Dick Bender, Dan Day, Robert Radebaugh, Dan Geran, Harry Applegett, Dick Thatcher, and Dick Fields. Coach Somerlot cut his squad right after Thanksgiving vacation to 26 men.

During most of this week Kenny has been emphasizing work against zone defense. He figures that perhaps half of Harding's opponents will use it, especially in the Prexies' home contests on the small Edison floor. Man-to-man defense is more suited to wide open play on a large floor.

Up and Down Last Year

Last year the Prexies had an up and down season. They won six and lost seven. The squad lost to weak teams and then bounced back to beat schools that should have trounced them. In 1947 the Presidents also opened against Bexley and dropped a close one to the Bobcats, 37-35. Harding led for three quarters before the 'Cats racked up 16 points in the final period for the victory.

AAU OPENS ANNUAL CONVENTION TODAY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—The Amateur Athletic Union opened its 60th annual convention today with more than 350 of the nation's sports leaders attending.

The four-day meeting is expected to be a placid one devoid of fireworks. No controversial issues are on the agenda.

The main items of business will be the awarding of championship tournaments in the 15 sports under AAU jurisdiction, consideration of record applications and election of officers.

James A. Rhodes, mayor of Columbus, O., is president of the organization.

As the sports figures gathered, there was speculation on who would succeed Avery Brundage as president of the United States Olympic Association if Brundage went through with his announced decision to resign.

His present term expires in November, 1949, when an election will be held.

Rhodes, who is up for reelection as AAU head, has been mentioned as a possible successor. Other officials of the Olympic association said efforts would be made to persuade Brundage to stay. The Olympic group will meet Sunday for a report on the London games.

MANAGER. Charles (Red) Ruffing, former New York Yankee and Boston Red Sox pitcher who joined the Chicago White Sox in 1946, has been appointed manager of the Muskegon, Mich., Class A Central league baseball team. Ruffing's appointment was announced yesterday by John Rigney, director of the White Sox farm system. He succeeds Ben Huffman, who will manage the Waterloo, Ia., club in the Three-I league. Both Waterloo and Muskegon are White Sox farm teams.

Smith, Merchant Set TD Parade for Prexies, Irish

Marion's touchdown kings during the 1948 gridiron season were Harding's Clarence Smith and St. Mary's Bill Merchant a recent release of statistics by the two schools reveals.

Smitty, Prexie Negro ace, went over for 15 TD's and was on the throwing end of five more while Merchant, only a junior, scampered over with 13 touchdowns, and tossed six more Irish tallies. Other Presidents who marched in the 1948 touchdown parade were Jack Bishop with five, Tom Taylor with four, Jim Kennell with three, Don Hoffman two, and Paul Ludwig and Jack Williams each had one. Bob "Corky" Cusick was second in St. Mary scoring with six. Ed Moloney got five, and Bill Mooney, Paul Cusick, and Nick Mantao each got one.

Averaged 7.7 a Try

In the yards-gained-from-scrimmage department Smitty was first with 1276 yards in 164 attempts averaging 7.7 yards per carry. Coach Pete Howison said this was about the same amount the flashy fullback picked up in 1947, within a few yards. Jack Bishop, plunging halfback, picked up 475 yards in 91 carries for 5.2 yards a tote; Jim Kennell went 157 yards in 24 attempts for a 6.5 average; and Harry Dowler went 104 yards in 18 tries for 5.8.

The most sure-fire TD passing combination proved to be Merchant to Ed Moloney. This pair connected for five Irish touchdowns and two points after touchdowns. Time and again when the St. Mary running attack bogged down it was a Merchant to Moloney aerial that pulled a contest from the fire. Both boys will be back for the '49 grid season.

One of the most interesting revelations from the statistics is Smitty's punting. He booted 34 times for 1226 yards for an average of 36.1 yards per kick. Harding's opponents also kicked 34 times for 897 yards, an average of 26.4 yards. In other words, Smitty, who did all the Harding punting, averaged almost ten yards more per boot than did the Presidents' opponents. Add the fact also that much of his punting was in the rain and mud as the Mansfield and Fremont contests.

Passing Record

Harding attempted 69 passes, completed 24 for 304 yards, and had seven intercepted. The enemy attempted 80, completed 33 for 468 yards and had 12 intercepted. Breaking it down, fullback Smitty attempted 41, completed 12 for 169 yards and five touchdowns, and had six intercepted. Dick Leffler, quarterback, tossed ten, completed five for 36 yards and had none intercepted. Jack Williams pitched nine, completed five for 62 yards and one touchdown, and had one intercepted. Greg Graham tossed seven and completed two for 37 yards and

REPORT ENCOURAGING ON INDIANS' HAYNES

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2 — The world champion Cleveland Indians received encouraging reports today on Joe Haynes, 31-year-old hurler acquired from the Chicago White Sox.

Haynes underweht surgery at Johns Hopkins hospital here Tuesday for removal of calcium deposits in his right shoulder.

Dr. George Bennett, a specialist who twice removed bone spurs from Joe DiMaggio's heel, said "the operation was highly satisfactory. His outlook is very good. By that I mean that the calcium deposits do not appear to have affected the tendons and that he should be able to pitch without any further trouble in that respect."

The Indians obtained Haynes last week in a swap for catcher Joe Tipton.

Haynes was on the sidelines most of last season, but posted nine victories against 10 defeats for the last-place White Sox. In 1947 the veteran of 10 American league campaigns won 14 and lost six for the sixth-place Sox and was the league's leading pitcher on an earned-run basis.

Army End Is Lineman of Week

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 — Coach Earl (Red) Blaik won't have so many worries when he starts building Army's football line next year.

He'll have big Bill Kellum back. Kellum, rangy end with a knack for coming through in the clutches, sometimes looks like a whole line himself.

Such an occasion was in the Army-Navy game last Saturday when Kellum gave a heroic defensive performance that probably prevented an Army defeat. The game ended in a 21-21 deadlock.

For his feats, the six-foot-three junior flankman from Haynesville, La., yesterday was named The Associated Press lineman of the week—the last such selection of the season.

After Navy had stepped off to a 7-0 lead, Kellum stopped another goalward march by the Middies in the second period when he nailed Reaves Baysinger for a nine-yard loss. At the time Navy was on the Army 12 and knocking on touchdown door.

In the third Kellum blocked a Navy punt and Army took over on the Navy 38. He was a bulwark on defense throughout the day.

Kellum won three letters in basketball and three in football at Haynesville high school. During the war he served in the Navy.

The Army end had serious opposition for the week's line honors from Ernie Stautner, Boston college tackle, and Lavern Torgerson, Washington State center.

BOWLING

Offers $400,000 For River Downs Track

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2—It was announced here today the Ohio Valley Thoroughbred club, Cincinnati, has offered $400,000 for the River Downs race track. M. Froome Barbour, attorney and horse breeder, who heads the club, said his group has been promised an answer on the proposition by Dec. 15 from persons handling the estate of the late Edward P. Strong.

Barbour said the local club would operate the track on a non-profit basis, giving to charity whatever profits accrued from the races.

One of Marion's Biggest Mat Shows Tonight

Marion wrestling fans are in for plenty of entertainment tonight at the armory for not only a tag team match but an added attraction that appeared in Ripley's Believe It Or Not, R. C. Harrison, the Mystery Atom. A Yogi who performs some unbelieved feats in the ring.

The two-hour main event will see a tag team match that should beat any tag match seen here in a long time. Dutch Schultz and Dale Wayne will team up against the combination of Steve Nenoff and Joe Wolfe. Last week Wolfe and Schultz had a hectic draw and Nenoff won the battle royal.

There will also be two thirty-minute matches in which Wolfe will wrestle Schultz and Nenoff will tackle Wayne. It's one of the biggest cards ever booked here and the prices remain the same 50-75-1.00. The Nash brothers have the prelim that opens the show at 8:30. Call 2748 after six-thirty for the best seats.—Adv.

LAFAYETTE MOST FEARED BY BISHOPS

5 Maroons Placed on OWU All-Opponent Eleven.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE O Dec 2—Lafayette Maroons placed five men on the first team of the Ohio Wesleyan all-opponent eleven, released by Coach Glenn M. Fraser Tuesday night

Mt Union and Washington and Jefferson each placed two men on the first eleven, and one player from Rollins and one from Baldwin-Wallace rounded out the team

Dan Towler W and J backfield star who scored 113 points this season—19 of them against the Bishops—was a near-unanimous choice of the OWU football squad.

Baldwin - Wallace's Yellow Jackets led the second team selections by placing four men on the second squad. Lafayette had but one man on the second team and three players from both Rollins and Mt. Union gained second team recognition.

Men elected to the Battling Bishops' all-opponent team are.

Barret, Mt. Union, LE. Capriotta, W and J, LT, Filepas, Lafayette, LG; Piperato, Lafayette, C; Pappas, Mt. Union, RG; Cinelli, Lafayette, RT; Schleer, Lafayette, RE; Phillips, Baldwin-Wallace, QB; Towler, W and J, RH; Kovacs, Lafayette, LH, and Peacock, Rollins, FB.

Ed Moloney Mentioned On INS All-Ohio Team

Ed Moloney Marion St Marys ace pass-grabbing end, today received honorable mention on the International News Service all-Ohio high school team

Moloney a junior was the only Marion player on the INS team though several gridders from schools in the area also made honorable mention

Troy included Walter Light Bucyrus end Bob Beeler Upper Sandusky guard Huggins Bucyrus center Jack Decker Kenton back, and Ray Pitt Carey back

Moloney, a full-game player for the Irish gained recognition as a slashing defensive end as well as a scoring threat on the end of B J Merchant aerials He caught five Merchant passes for touchdowns and two more for the extra points

"Dream" Team

A high school coach would have a tough time dreaming up a better team than that picked for the INS by Ohio's sports writers, radio sportscasters and coaches

The INS "dream" eleven has a line in which the lightest man tips the scales at 170

The backfield is composed of four of the best backs in the state, each of whom led his team in scoring.

John Colceri, Canton McKinley's great 180-pound halfback, led the balloting and got votes and praise from opponents and proponents alike He scored 128 points for the Bulldogs before he was injured but with a broken collarbone in the next-to-the-last game of the season

Jim Bailey Hamilton quarterback was the second backfield choice and was also given a great and powerful ball carrier and team player as well

Other Backs

The other two backfield spots in the dream eleven are filled by Jerry Thorpe the Alliance Aviator deceptive runner and Dick Shuff, the Mt Vernon flash who scored 108 points in gaining a net of 1030 yards

Ends of the INS All-Ohio are Dick Thomas son of the Martins Ferry football coach, and Bob Grimes, one of the mainstays of the Middletown team that lost only to Hamilton.

Nick O'Brovac, Canton McKinley captain and a 48-minute player, received a greater total of first place votes than did any other lineman He is teamed up at tackle with Mike Takacs of Massillon.

Joe Defende, Martins Ferry's 225-pound line mainstay and Bill Shalosky, of Louisville were selected for all-Ohio guards a position for which there seemed to be few outstanding nominees

Bob Kane, of Newark's undefeated Wildcats, nosed out Russ Addison of Alliance for the center post.

The second and third teams also present some outstanding players as does the honorable mention list.

The Selections

Ends, Richard Thomas Martins Ferry and Robert Grimes, Middletown; tackles Nick O'Brovac, Canton McKinley and Mike Takacs, Massillon, guards, Bill Shalosky, Louisville, and Joe Defede, Martins Ferry; center, Bob Kane, Newark, backs, Jerry Thorpe, Alliance, Jim Bailey, Hamilton; John Colceri, Canton McKinley, and Dick Shuff, Mt Vernon. All are seniors

Charles Weeks of Columbus West, Harding's first opponent this season, was selected second team tackle and Joe Miller of Mansfield made the second team backfield. Bill Johnson of Fremont made the third team as a tackle.

Other honorable mention choices who will be familiar to Marion fans as members of opponent teams are Tom Williams, Lima St. Rose end, Mowry, Findlay tackle, Geib, Fremont center; Russell, Mansfield center; Beck, Fremont back; Wise, Findlay back, and Jackson, Fostoria back.

TELEVISION BUYS INTO FIGHT CLUB

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Dec 2—Bids for boxing talent are expected to hit a new high with television interests pouring fresh cash into the market

Columbia Broadcasting System became the first network to buy a piece of a fight club yesterday when it purchased a one-fourth interest in the Tournament of Champions CBS expects to be televising fights on a Chicago-Boston network by Jan 13

The CBS move was part of the reorganization of the Tournament of Champions organized last April by promoter Mike Jacobs It's on the boxing game George Kraft one of the original "seven millionaires" still survives with 25 per cent He remains president Music Corporation of America and Allied Syndicates and a public relations firm headed by Dave Charney each to get 25 per cent

According to the mimeographed blurb distributed at a press conference and luncheon the new TV of C proposes to go into all phases of sports on a national and international basis They even talk of hockey and football franchises and tennis, but right now they are concentrating on boxing

The new organization expects to tap new and greater revenue from television which will make up for any loss of patronage at the gate It figures to offer higher guarantees to fighters with the new cash

Dick Stovall, center for the Detroit Lions of the National pro football league, has four brothers who played football in Texas schools.

Stan Musial Selected Most Valuable Player

STAN MUSIAL

NEW YORK Dec 2—Stan Musial the St Louis Cardinal slugger who starred on a team that finished second in the National league batting race today was named the circuit's most valuable player by a wide margin

Stan's total of 376 points was far ahead of the 271 totaled by Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers who finished 40 points and 18 votes ahead of Musial fell short of a perfect score by one point in a poll of baseball writers and broadcasters in the 30 cities of the park of Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Mize of the New York Giants each smashed 40

Easy Winner

As was the case in the American league where Cleveland's Lou Boudreau was an easy winner there was little question who would be the senior circuit Most Valuable Player as selected by the Baseball Writers association. First place votes of a 24-man committee appointed by Burns of the Chicago Tribune were getting 16 for Musial, five for Boudreau and three for Boston's Johnny Sain Walter for Brooklyn's Al Dark

Actually the award, which also carried with it baseball's official title as Kerosene Mountain Lion this plaque is decided on a point basis Each first place ballot counts 14 each second place counts nine and so on down to one point for a 10th place vote

On a point basis Musial had 303 for an 80-point margin over Sain who had 223 Dark scored 174 They were the only three with 100 or more points

Sain drew strong support for his 24-game winning season that boosted the Braves into their first World Series since the miracle men of 1914 The voting, as usual was recorded during the final week of the regular season and did not take into account World Series performances

Dark enjoying a brilliant freshman year as shortstop for a pennant winner, hit 322.

Fourth place went to New York's Sid Gordon who played a fine third base all season and drove in 10 runs with his 299 average Next came St Louis' pitcher Harry Brecheen, a 20 game winner

Pee Wee Reese shortstop sparkplug of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who hit 274 was sixth followed by Ralph Kiner 40 homers and Enos Slaughter a 321 hitter for St Louis tied for seventh

Two players from the surprising Pittsburgh third placed ninth and tenth They were Danny Murtaugh making a great comeback at second base and hitting 290 and Stan Rojek, who batted 289 after he was purchased from Brooklyn In all thirty-two players drew at least one point

Third Time for Stan

It was the third time Musial was named most valuable in six full years of major league The personable Cardinal ace who celebrated his 28th birthday Nov 21 won top honors in 1943 and 1946 Last year's most valuable, Bob Elliott of Boston finished 13th although his team won the pennant Mentioned with these number of points were

Those number of points were

Johnny Vander Meer Cincinnati 7 Johnny Wyrostek, Cincinnati 9 Grady Hatton, Cincinnati 3, and Hank Sauer, Cincinnati 1

Middies Look Like Threat In Y-Independent

Composed of former Harding and St Mary stars, the Mid-Town Middies look to be one of the leading teams of the YMCA sponsored Independent league which gets under way next Monday night.

The Middies are led by Gene Shellhorn three-year letterman from Harding In his junior and senior years he received honorable mention on the All-Ohio basketball team and was selected on the first squad of the NCO five Kenny Jones rangy center from LaRue High joined with Dick Drake, Bob Winterstellar and Tom Mount all St Mary cagers of the last three years Little Steve Norris a tricky ball handler and Don Moran complete the list of former Irish on the Middies.

Jim Riley Fritz Guy and "Mouse" Miers from Harding round out the squad Shellhorn has divided the Middies into two teams either of which should be able to hold its own against the best of the Independent league.

Navy's George Sauer Is "Coach of Week"

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—His football team didn't win a game all season—in fact there were only three other major squads in the nation with records as bad.

Eight straight times this season, 12 times in a row over the past two seasons, his team had its colors dipped into the dirt.

He's the United Press coach of the week, George Sauer, whose Navy Midshipmen never quit fighting, never gained a victory, yet engineered one of the top upsets of the year—that astounding 21 to 21 tie with Army's all-conquering Cadets.

Everybody, it seemed, gave up on those oft-mauled Midshipmen, and the legions who made the pilgrimage to Philadelphia's Municipal stadium told themselves the football game didn't much matter but that it was worth the trip to see the color, the pageantry and the celebrities.

What They Forget

What they forgot, but what Sauer, the first civilian coach at Navy since 1933 remembered, was that in spite of the team's poor record, it never once quit on the field—never gave up in disgust.

What folks also seemed to forget was that in compiling that unvictorious record Navy played the toughest schedule of any team in the nation. Six of its nine opponents were unbeaten at the time they faced Navy—California Cornell, Duke, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, and Army. Three of them, California, Notre Dame and Army still are unbeaten—Cornell wound up with only one defeat and as champion of the Ivy league.

Sauer, a tall, congenial Nebraska All-America of 1933 vintage, was totally unfamiliar with the atmosphere of defeat in which he found himself. For two years he had led the Kansas Jayhawkers to co-championships of the Big Seven and as a smashing fullback and tremendous left-footed punter at Nebraska, he was key man as the Cornhuskers rang up three straight conference championships.

Nothing that ever happened to him in football stirred him so much as Navy's performance against Army. In the dressing room after the game, tears streamed from his eyes and he wasn't the least bit ashamed of them

Fightingest Gang

As his players hoisted him to their shoulders, he came to rest atop a uniform trunk and lifted his arms as if in a toast—"to the fightingest gang of men I ever coached."

But what was most significant of all—something that bodes no good for Navy opponents next year—was his conviction that the Middies now are on the long road back

Sauer admitted what he overlooked as a civilian coach was how tremendously important the Army game was to the boys.

"I never before saw a team rise so magnificently to the occasion," he said. "That was the greatest part of it all for me."

WISCONSIN, IOWA OPEN WITH WINS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 2—With the opening of the Big Nine basketball campaign still a month away, conference teams will be tested by 40 non-league opponents before their own family scrap begins.

Wisconsin and Iowa opened their season last night with triumphs. The Badgers defeated Ripon (Wis.) college, 66 to 36, at Madison, while the Hawkeyes were walloping Omaha university, 64 to 44, at Iowa City.

Tomorrow night at Champaign, Illinois entertains Butler and the Illini hope to shave the 7-5 competitive series edge now held by the Indianapolis school.

Seven Big Nine teams will meet non-conference foes Saturday. Michigan, defending conference champion, entertains Michigan State and plays Toledo Sunday at Ann Arbor. Other Saturday games: Western Michigan at Northwestern: Butler at Ohio State; Western Illinois at Minnesota; DePauw at Indiana; Colorado college at Iowa, and Marquette at Wisconsin.

Purdue—last Big Nine team to get started—will open at home Monday against Detroit.

Central Opens With Win Over St. Mary

Central Junior High school got its basketball season off to a good start by soundly defeating St Mary, 37-17, last night. Paced by Jim Russell and Bob Apt, with 12 and 11 points, respectively, Central took an early lead and never relinquished it. High scorer for St. Mary was Finnegan with 8 points.

St. Mary reserves defeated the Central junior varsity, 18-14.

5 Clubs Bidding For Nevada's Stan Heath

By International News Service

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 2 — Stan Heath, the University of Nevada's All-America back from Milwaukee, was reported to have received definite offers or feelers from five professional football teams.

Top on the list bidding for the services of the star passer was the New York Yankees of the All-America football conference.

Three other AAFC teams were said to be definitely interested. They are the San Francisco 49-ers, the Los Angeles Dons and the Chicago Rockets.

The lone National Football league club involved in reports concerning the transferee from the University of Wisconsin is the Green Bay Packers.

The Yankees reportedly have offered Heath between $30,000 and $50,000 for a two-year contract, plus a bonus for signing

NYU has defeated Fordham six times in 29 football meetings. Two games were ties.

$100 Due Today From 1950 "Jug" Nominees

By International News Service

DELAWARE, Dec. 2—Managers of the Little Brown Jug pacing classic, annual feature of the Delaware county fair grand circuit meet, warned today that a $100 fee is due for all candidates for the 1950 jug.

Owners of colts eligible to the big race for three-year-old pacers must make their payments by Dec. 15 to H. C. Thomson of Delaware, secretary of the Little Brown Jug Society

On Jan. 1, a payment of $25 is due on candidates for the 1949 race. This year's Jug was worth nearly $50,000 and Thomson expects next year's to exceed that value by a substantial sum

PAY BACK PART OF FARM LOANS OF '30'S

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Dec 2 The government got a $10,000,000 dividend today on $200,000,000 it advanced in 1934 to alleviate broadsands of farm foreclosures

This fund was turned over to the treasury by the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation a unit of the agriculture department's farm credit administration

The mortgage corporation loaned more than $1,250,000,000 to about 675,000 farmers who faced loss of their farms during the depression in the mid-thirties The treasury furnished the $200,000,000 to provide the corporation's capital stock

This is the second such dividend the government has received Last June the corporation turned $40,000,000 over to the treasury

Discharged Because Of $6.60 Expense Account

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Dec 2—Frank W Claudy, Muskingum county subdivision manager for the state division of aid for the aged was discharged today because of a $6.60 expense account

Karl R Rabb, chief of the division, notified the state civil service commission that Claudy was being removed, effective Dec 4, for "dishonesty and malfeasance in office"

Babb charged that Claudy on Oct 4 turned in an expense account listing expenditure of $6.60 for gasoline for an automobile trip from Zanesville to Columbus

The division chief said that Claudy actually made the trip as a passenger in a friend's car,

In Loving Memory

★Of our darling mother, Mrs. Ollie Somerlot, who died Dec. 2nd, 1945

Three years of silent sorrow
Three years of loneliness
The blow was great, the shock severe
We did not know the end was near.
Only those who loved her can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
The dearest mother and finest friend
Whom God could never lend.
Loving, gentle, thoughtful and true.
Always willing a kind act to do
The ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
We are lonely, yes, for mother,
In the years that have passed away.
And we know she'll always guide us
Till we meet again some day.
She is happy, reunited with her pal, our father dear.
In that beautiful Isle of Somewhere
They await us children there.

SOIL CONSERVATION MEETING SET DEC. 8

Columbus Man Will Address Group at School.

The annual meeting of the Marion Soil Conservation District has been scheduled for Dec. 8 at the Pleasant Township school, it was announced today by Arthur H. Smith, county agent.

Speaker will be Ollie Edgar Pink of Columbus, executive secretary of the Friends of the Land, a society working in the interests of conservation of America's natural resources.

The meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. will be open to the public and anyone interested in the phases of conservation, the county agent reported.

Business before the meeting in addition to reports on the years activities included election of three supervisors. Those whose terms expire are Calvin Baldinger of near Claridon, present chairman of the board, Victor Kreis, of Pleasant township and Clyde Hinaman of Grand Prairie township. The present board includes in addition, Carl Seiter, of Big Island township and H. H. Barringer of Waldo, named to the board in 1947.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by the district board of directors.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Several cases of high blood pressure and insomnia have been traced to tax dodging... Until now high blood pressure had been believed to result from tax paying.

• • •

One man couldn't sleep until he had confessed his tax evasions. ... I hear now he sleeps all night, wakes at five and is out of his cell by six.

• • •

But eventually we will have a new type of federal cop; part tax analyst, part psychoanalyst.... His job will be to see that you're solvent if not sane.

• • •

Of course none will know whether the young fellow starting medical school is going out for a sheepskin or taxpayer's.

• • •

But it's interesting to know that as many people are sleepless because of their money as the lack of it.

Ohio Mayors Testify On Natural Gas Needs

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—A line of Ohio city officials awaited their turn today to tell how much natural gas they wanted.

They were here yesterday, too, but only one got to talk at the power commission's hearing on a plan of the Texas Gas Transmission Corp. to build a pipeline from Texas to Middletown, O.

The hearing is about the amount of gas Ohio distributing companies would get from the new pipeline, which will carry 350,000,000 cubic feet a day from the Texas fields.

Under contracts already signed, East Ohio Gas Co. would get 110,000,000 cubic feet, and part of another 100,000,000 would go to Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The Ohioans want these contracts kept, but cities and utilities in other midwestern states want some of the gas diverted their ways.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 2 — Waino Koski, 52, of Chicago was crushed to death yesterday by a coal loader at the Presque Isle docks. He was a seaman on the freighter W. H. McGean.

Before Galion was founded in 1831, there were really two towns, Petersville. One settlement was on the public square and the other at the "Corners" where Harding Way West and the state road now intersect. This settlement was started by the Hosford Brothers as a trade center with blacksmith shop, store and other buildings erected. It was later moved up to higher ground where the Galion public square is now located. The Big Four railroad was brought into Galion in 1852 and the Erie railroad in 1863, Petersville reviewed

1-ROOM QUARANTINE. The Conrad, Muncy, and Riley families are sure glad that 21-day quarantine in a one-room log-type home is over at Avery, O. Three weeks before, Mrs. Albert Muncy and her two children came to care for the Alan Conrad children while Mrs. Conrad went to the hospital to have her fifth baby. Pfc William Riley, on furlough from San Antonio, Tex., and his wife dropped in. It was then that David Muncy's scarlet fever was discovered. So all nine were quarantined three weeks in the abode, with only curtains for room partitions. Commenting on the confusion Riley said, "I can't even find my pass." The nine are shown with Mrs. Conrad and the new baby. Seated (from left) are David Muncy, 5, the scarlet fever victim; Mrs. Alberta Muncy, John Muncy, 20 months old; David Conrad, 7; Mrs. Conrad and Alan Conrad, Jr., 7 weeks. Dianne Conrad, 16 months; Patty Conrad, 4. Standing: Mrs. William Riley, Tommy Conrad, 5, Pfc. William Riley.

HONOR OWU PRESIDENT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan university and a former civil service commissioner, received Tuesday the Layman's Award of the Washington Federation of Churches. The award was for distinguished service "in the development of the moral and religious life of the city of Washington." Flemming, who retired as civil service commissioner last Aug. 30, was active in church affairs during the 21 years he lived in Washington.

490 NEW RESIDENCES BUILT SINCE 1940

A survey conducted by the office of the Marion city clerk disclosed 490 new homes have been built within the city corporate limits between Jan. 1, 1940, and Dec. 1, 1948.

According to the survey 205 homes were built from Jan. 1940 to April 1945. A total of 285 homes have been built here between April 1, 1945 and Dec. 1, 1948. These houses varied in cost between $800 and $28,000. None of the new construction in Vernon Heights or proposed construction on South Prospect and South Seffner avenues or on Belvedere avenue is included in this survey the city clerk said.

Wyandot County Peace Contest Set for Sunday

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Wyandot county Prince of Peace declamation contest will be held at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in two divisions at the John Stewart Methodist and First Presbyterian churches here. Winners in each of the two divisions will receive silver medals and will be eligible to compete in the district contest.

Contestants in the county are "winners of previous local" church and school contests. They include two from Newark, two from Cairo and one each from Wharton, Marseilles, Eden, McCutchenville and Sycamore.

In the Service

Donald R. Clark, machinist's mate 3 c, recently spent a 10-day leave with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark of Morral. He left Norfolk Nov. 28, to return to Norfolk, Va., where he is stationed on the USS Albemarle. Navy man Clark has been in the service nearly four years. Last Sunday a dinner was held in his honor at his home. Present in addition to the Clark family were Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Bartram of Marion, Junior Branch of Mansfield, and Misses Dora and Clarbel Newland of Cairo.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

One Good Reason Why You Need An Annual Health Exam.

One of the many reasons why ... have an annual he... is to be sure that the great ... ng plant in the body—... k... s—is in good working ... Kidney disorders of the ... brought about when ... stones form in them.

Fortunately, in recent years, a great deal has been learned about ... stones which may be made up of different types of chemicals.

For example, some contain calcium oxalate. These are the most common stones found in persons in the United States. They may also contain calcium phosphate, uric acid, and cystine, which is an amino acid. Most stones are made up of a mixture of these various substances.

Oxalate stones are small, dark, rough, and hard; calcium phosphate stones small, white, soft, and chalky, uric acid stones small and usually quite yellow in color, and cystine stones have a waxy appearance.

Exactly why kidney stones form is not definitely known as yet, although many scientists are working on this problem. However, there are some who believe that they are formed around a small bit of material. This may come from a deposit of calcium or lime salts in the kidney from the blood. Thus, any factor which speeds up the elimination of salts through the kidney would tend to cause the stone to grow rapidly. These factors include blocking of the flow of urine, prolonged rest in bed and the drinking of too little water, infections of any kind in the kidneys, the taking of insufficient fluids, and excessive sweating.

Other factors may be related to the excretion of large amounts of lime salts through the kidneys. For example, a disturbance of the gland in the neck, known as the parathyroid glands, may be a factor. Large doses of vitamin D will cause a temporary increase in the amount of calcium in the urine. Then, too, a marked deficiency of vitamin A may be responsible.

The symptoms of kidney stones consist of pain, often with fever and chills. The diagnosis, as a rule, is not difficult. Often, blood is found in the urine. Many of the stones can be seen in the X-ray plate.

In treating the condition, if the pain is severe, and it usually is, some opiate is often necessary. It is important, if there is infection present, that such preparations as sulfathiazole or the sulfonamide drugs be given.

Sometimes a stone can be removed through the cystoscope, which consists of a tube with a light. The instrument is passed into the bladder and then another instrument, called the catheter is passed upward into the ureter which passes from the kidneys into the bladder. If the stone cannot be removed in this way, operation is necessary.

To prevent recurrence the patient should drink plenty of fluids and the diet should be low in the substances from which the removed stone is formed, for example, oxalates. Any blocking of the flow of urine should be corrected, by surgery if necessary, and infections should be overcome by proper treatment.

Convention Planned By Sunday Schools

The annual Scott and Tully Township Sunday school convention will be held Sunday afternoon, with discussion groups meeting at the Clyde and Sixteen churches near Martel it was announced. Religious education leaders of the area will direct the discussions

One of the few old time Sunday school conventions still being held in this area, the joint convention of the two Marion county townships was started more than 50 years ago, it was stated, when Sunday school teachers and students met for a two-day conclave.

Special leaders have been secured for children. Main address will be by Rev. Immell of the Whetstone Evangelical and Reformed church. The discussions on Sunday school problems will be led by John A. Florence, superintendent of the Marengo schools, Miss Verlie Smith, religious education teacher of Galion schools, Mrs F A LePage Cardington youth worker, and Mrs Alva W Taylor of Galion, children's worker. The meeting will open at 2.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ARRANGED BY ELKS

Annual Rites To Be Held at Lodge Hall Sunday.

In keeping with an annual custom members of Marion Lodge of Elks will pay tribute to members of the organization who have died during last year, Sunday, Dec. 5. The memorial service will be held in the lodge room at 2:30 o'clock. Speaker for the occasion will be F. C. Simon of Piqua, a past district deputy and member of Piqua Lodge No. 525.

The service will open with a piano prelude, "Elegie Masenet" by George W. Lane, and Warren Augenstine will sing "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte. The memorial service will be conducted by the lodge officers headed by W. B. Henney, exalted ruler. Carl S. Kay, a past exalted ruler, will deliver the eulogy and completing the musical part of the program will be a solo by Mr. Augenstein, "Absent," Metcalf. The services will close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," by the audience, with Mr. Lane at the piano.

Members who have died during the last year are H. O. Toms, Martin Hansen, Emerson Schoenlaub, Harry W. Haberman, Dr. Auguste Rhu, George W. Neeley, C. L. Allen, Frank L. Barringer, Francis M. Mullins, Merton F. Kobernait, W. T. Owen and Albert Guy Beck.

Serving on the memorial committee are V. M. Dutton, chairman, Clifford B. Stull, Bert S. Felt, Abe Simon, R. L. Mc... Lister and Doyle K. Montgomery.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

22. Across the Rhine in Force.

WHILE Montgomery, on the north, was waging the first of the February and March battles for the destruction of the German forces before the Rhine, additional Canadian and British strength began transferring from the Mediterranean to the Twenty-first Army Group. Thus while Bradley and Devers, farther south, were delivering the blows that freed the west bank of the Rhine, Montgomery, in the north, could count on early reinforcement as he completed his preparations for forcing a crossing of the river.

Montgomery was always a master in the methodical preparation of forces for a formal, set-piece attack. In this case he made the most meticulous preparations because he knew that along the front just north of the Ruhr the enemy had his best remaining troops, including portions of the First Paratroop Army.

The assault, on the night of March 23-24, was preceded by a violent artillery bombardment. On the front of the two American divisions two thousand guns of all types participated. General Simpson and I found a vantage point in an old church tower from which to witness the gunfire. Because the batteries were distributed on the flat plains on the western bank of the Rhine every flash could be seen. The din was incessant.

Meanwhile, infantry assault troops were marching up to the water's edge to get into the boats. We joined some of them and found the troops remarkably eager to finish the job. There is no substitute for a succession of great victories in building morale. I fell in with one young soldier. Nevertheless, as we walked along who seemed silent and depressed.

"How are you feeling, son?" I asked.

"General," he said, "I'm awful nervous. I was wounded two months ago and just got back from the hospital yesterday. I don't feel so good!"

"Well," I said to him, "you and I are a good pair then, because I'm nervous too. But we've planned this attack for a long time and we've got all the planes, the guns, and airborne troops we can use to smash the Germans. Maybe if we just walk along together to the river we'll be good for each other."

"Oh," he said, "I meant I was nervous: I'm not any more. I guess it's not so bad around here." And I knew what he meant.

• • •

WITH THE ARRIVAL of daylight I went to a convenient hill from which to witness the arrival of the airborne units, which were scheduled to begin their drop at 10 o'clock. The airborne troops were carried to the assault in a total of 1,572 planes and 1,326 gliders; 889 fighter planes escorted them during the flight, and 2,153 other fighters provided cover over the target area and established a defensive screen to the eastward.

Fog and the smoke of the battlefield prevented a complete view of the airborne operation, but I was able to see some of the action. A number of our planes were hit by anti-aircraft, generally, however, only after they had dropped their loads of paratroopers. As they swung away from the battle area they seemed to come over a spot where anti-aircraft fire was particularly accurate. Operation Varsity, the name given to the airborne phase of this attack, was the most successful airborne operation we carried out during the war.

During the morning I met the Prime Minister with Field Marshal Brooke. Mr. Churchill always seemed to find it possible to be near the scene of action when any particularly important operation was to be launched. On that morning he was delighted, as indeed were all of us. He exclaimed over and over, "My dear General, the German is whipped. We've got him. He is all through."

About noon of March 24 it was necessary for me to rush down to Bradley's headquarters to confer on important phases of his own operations. After I left, the Prime Minister persuaded the local commander to take him across the Rhine in an LCM. He undoubtedly derived an intense satisfaction from putting his foot on the eastern bank of Germany's traditional barrier.

• • •

POSSIBLY HE FELT the act was symbolic of the final defeat of an enemy who had forced Britain's back to the wall five years before. However, had I been present he would never have been permitted to cross the Rhine that day.

In the meantime events farther south had been proceeding swiftly. Bradley's first purpose was to secure a firm lodgment in the Frankfurt region from which an advance in strength would be undertaken toward Kassel. At this latter point we expected to join up with Montgomery's attack on the north of the Ruhr and so complete the envelopment of that area.

On the twenty-sixth of March the advance out of the Remagen bridgehead began. The V Corps, now under Major General Clarence R. Huebner, thrust rapidly to the southeast and overran Limburg. These great converging thrusts by Hodges and Patton completed the demoralization of the enemy in that region.

Still farther south, in the Sixth Army Group, Patch's Seventh Army joined the attack. General Haislip's XV Corps, of the Seventh Army, forced a crossing of the river near Worms on March 26. Enemy detachments at the water's edge presented stubborn opposition but it was quickly overcome and the XV Corps completed the crossing on the twenty-seventh.

The Seventh Army immediately took up the advance and after linking up with the Third Army pushed on quickly to capture Mannheim. The final crossing of the Rhine against resistance was made by the French Army at Philippsburg April 1. From there the French were subsequently to strike southeastward in the direction of Stuttgart and clear the eastern bank of the Rhine all the way to the Swiss border.

We owed much to Hitler. There is no question that his General Staff, had it possessed a free hand in the field of military operations, would have foreseen certain disaster on the western bank and would have pulled back the defending forces, probably no later than the beginning of January.

• • •

EVEN HITLER, fanatic that he was, must have had lucid moments in which he could not have failed to see that the end was in sight. He was writing an ending to a drama that would far exceed in tragic climax anything that his beloved Wagner ever conceived.

I already knew of the Allied political agreements that divided Germany into post-hostilities occupational zones. The north-south line allotted to that decision to the British and American nations ran from the vicinity of Lubeck, at the eastern base of the Danish peninsula, generally southward to the town of Eisenach and on southward to the Austrian border.

This future division of Germany did not influence our military plans for the final conquest of the country. Military plans, I believed, should be devised with the single aim of speeding victory; by later adjustment troops of the several nations could be concentrated into their own national sectors.

A natural objective beyond the Ruhr was Berlin. It was politically and psychologically important as the symbol of remaining German power. I decided, however, that it was not the logical or the most desirable objective for the forces of the Western Allies.

When we stood on the Rhine in the last week of March we were three hundred miles from Berlin, with the obstacle of the Elbe still two hundred miles to our front.

The Russian forces were firmly established on the Oder with a brideghead on its western bank only thirty miles from Berlin. Our logistic strength, which included an ability to deliver to forward elements some 2,000 tons of supplies by air transport every day, would sustain our spearheads thrusting across Germany.

• • •

BUT IF WE SHOULD plan for a power crossing of the Elbe, with the single purpose of attempting to invest Berlin, two things would happen. The first of these was that in all probability the Russian forces would be around the city long before we could reach there. The second was that to sustain a strong force at such a distance from our major bases along the Rhine would have meant the practical immobilization of units and the cessation of the offensive. This I felt to be more than offset by the political advantages that would accrue from the capture of Berlin.

With these several considerations in mind I determined that as soon as the Twelfth and Twenty-first Army Groups had completed the Ruhr encirclement our next major activities would comprise three essential parts.

The first would be a powerful thrust by Bradley directly east to the center of Germany.

The second and third parts of the general plan were designed following upon Bradley's junction with the Russians somewhere along the Elbe, and they called for an advance on each of our flanks, the northern thrust reaching the area of Denmark, the southern one to push into Austria and overrun the mountains west and south of that country.

This general plan was presented to Generalissimo Stalin.

Under the arrangement made in January and approved by the Combined Chiefs of Staff, I thought that I was completely within the scope of my own authority and responsibility in communicating this plan to the Generalissimo. However we quickly found that Prime Minister Churchill seriously objected to my action.

He disagreed with the plan and held that, because the campaign was now approaching its end troop maneuvers had acquired a political significance that demanded the intervention of political leaders in the development of broad operational plans. He apparently believed that my message to the Generalissimo had exceeded my authority to communicate with Moscow only on purely military matters.

• • •

HE WAS GREATLY disappointed and disturbed because my plan did not first throw Montgomery forward with all the strength I could give him from the American forces, in the desperate attempt to capture Berlin before the Russians could do so. He sent his views to Washington.

The Prime Minister knew, of course, that, regardless of the distance the Allies might advance to the eastward, he and the President had already agreed that the British and American occupation zones would be limited on the east by a line two hundred miles west of Berlin. Consequently his great insistence upon using all our resources in the hope of assuring the arrival of the Western Allies in Berlin ahead of the Russians must have been based on the conviction that great prestige and influence for the Western Allies would later derive from this achievement.

The outcome of all this was that we went ahead with our own plan. So earnestly did I believe in the military soundness of what we were doing that my intimates on the staff knew I was prepared to make an issue of it.

• • •

The final break-up of the Nazi armies presented General Eisenhower with extraordinarily difficult problems, both of military strategy and of diplomacy. He was still directing great power thrusts toward Berlin when American troops first met the Red Army on the Elbe.

On April 12, he visited General Patton's fast-moving divisions, inspected a salt mine filled with Nazi treasure, saw his first horror camp, near Gotha, and finally went to bed at midnight. A few minutes later General Patton and General Bradley walked back into his room to tell him that President Roosevelt had just died.

These are the events that fill tomorrow's installment of "Crusade in Europe."

BOWLING RESULTS

Sharrock, bowling in the Home league, really burned up the Marion alleys Monday night He was high in single games with a score of 236, rolled another game of 227, and led the loop with a terrific three-game score of 624.

The Palace league had its share of high games too. Kuhar was highest with a 220, bowling another game of 201. Drumm rolled a 211 while Schrader and Clark each had 205. Seckel had a high single game of 217 for men in the Ohio Public Service loop and Joanne Corbin led women with a single game total of 154

In the Marion Power Shovel league Bowers topped both departments with a single of 207 and three game series total of 550

Reifer bowled 202 to take top single game honors in the Monday Night Ladies league while Stephenson was high in three game scores with a nifty 509

Three-game individual and team totals and league standings follow.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

for at least two seconds before he answered. I was quiet, and I knew that I was trying to make him answer in words enough for Faith to hear.

"Then" he finally said, "they're progressing."

I rose and went toward the telephone. I could see the children urging on Harry, mauling and kissing him, something must be done to get Faith away from the radio.

"My faithful spouse told me to leave as soon as we arrived," I told Harry, "since Katharine's apartment

Heard Him Talking

"I wondered if she were on her way to Reno, the big fool, I said and then I became aware of talking to Faith who adores him. Wondering how I was going to phrase the message to Katharine which I wanted to give to Lillian, I called my lawyer-man's apartment and she promptly answered the telephone

"I thought you were going to sleep" I told her reproachfully.

"Preserve me from such a fate," she said. Lil and I are having a grand session. If you can't think of anything to get me, I'll keep on talking."

I can't guess, I said drily. Will you please tell Lillian that Harry has arrived.

I will transmit that information," she told me with mockery in her voice. Then she sobered. "Am I right in inferring that you would like me to come over, with her and get the Faith and the boys over to my room so that Harry and Dicky can go into a huddle?"

I smothered a gasp at her uncanny perception of my needs, then, spoke sedately.

If you don't intend to go to sleep, I wish you would come over with Lillian for a minute, and take a look at Dicky. I'm afraid he's overdoing things."

Hey!" my husband shouted indignantly. What goes on?"

Then he subsided abruptly, and I guessed that his big friend had "given him the eye," as the boys say.

If it weren't for meddling women," he grumbled, this world would be Paradise."

Some of the song "Reuben" Reuben" I was making Mary asked as I moved from the telephone with Katharine's parting words. "We'll be right over as soon as we can get hold of Wes," still rang in my ears.

Is Aunt Katharine coming over to "side bent on Daddy?" Faith piped and I made no attempt to correct her grammar.

She is, and I have to share so we won't have to go back to Daddy fast. I'll be counting. As a special favor you may have him all to yourself a few minutes. Roderick and Junior will you come with the next room with me for a minute or two? There's something I have forgotten to tell you something I want to do for me, and there's no use bothering the rest of the family with it

Gallant Lavert

Sure thing Mama, Junior agreed with Roderick echoing him and then with the boys gallant escort I went to Mary's door, knocked and locked the door.

"This must be something hush hush," Roderick said.

But I told him, and I have to ask a service of you which I don't like and I know you won't."

Frank B. Noyes

OUTSIDE the newspaper business few Americans know the invaluable public service performed by Frank B. Noyes, who died in Washington Wednesday at the age of 85.

He was one of the founders of The Associated Press, whose members held him in such high regard that he served as its president for the first 38 years of its operation and then was made an honorary officer until failing health forced his retirement.

The dependability of this great news-gathering and news-processing organization has been indispensable to the public information which is the foundation of self-government. Mr. Noyes, his associates and the key men they chose to carry out their high purposes contributed materially to the political and social development of the nation and to its growing realization of its place in the modern world.

They did this by conscientious, diligent work. They never dramatized themselves. Their aim was unfaltering—to give people a dependable account of what was happening. The present Associated Press is a monument to all who have sought the truth that can make men free—and on its base is inscribed the name of Frank B. Noyes.

Clearing the Decks

MIXED feelings about the special session of the general assembly called by Governor Herbert reflect the political circumstances of the moment, which are mixed. But it cannot fairly be held against Governor Herbert that he should want to clear the political decks before he leaves office at the end of the year.

His legislative call is limited to 'consideration of additional money for a tuberculosis hospital at Ohio State University Medical Center and an administrative building at Apple Creek. Unless the money is made available by Dec. 15, both projects will have to be shelved indefinitely. Since they were started in the Herbert administration, it is proper for that administration to follow through with them.

It is probable that the general assembly also will be asked to confirm certain appointments which otherwise would be rejected by the incoming Democratic assembly. No other action is anticipated. When Frank J. Lausche and his party take over in Columbus next January they will have unlimited opportunity to carry out their campaign promises, including some they might prefer to forget now that the opposition is going to deny them that privilege.

H.M.S. Resolute

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S 74th birthday was observed quietly in England on Tuesday. But the event was marked, it may be assumed, in England by a certain significant gratitude.

Mr. Churchill, though out of power, is still the most powerful man of his time. There is an obvious reason for this—obvious enough to be noted in the United States.

Mr. Churchill retains his power because it consists of what he has been and still is in British public affairs—a man of great resolution beyond the reach of ordinary political expediency. When Britain was fumbling its way into the disaster of World War II, he made himself unpopular by warning his countrymen of their peril. Now that Britain has survived its latest war and Mr. Churchill has been rewarded for his wartime leadership by being retired to the sidelines in favor of a more palatable kind of political leadership, he is still resolutely telling Britons what he sees as the truth about their experiments in socialism. Many of them don't love him for it, but all of them must respect him because his personal integrity is beyond question.

It almost goes without saying that in event of another national crisis like the one in 1940, Winston Churchill again would be called on to lead the country. He is H.M.S. Resolute in person—a national asset of incalculable value to the people of Britain and their allies in the struggle to save human freedom from ideological conformists.

Talking Point Only

THE scuttling crew which has worked so hard to get rid of the Taft-Hartley act never has clearly explained its opposition to the so-called non-Communist affidavits. It merely has said that union leaders shouldn't be expected to sign the affidavits unless management is willing to sign them too.

The fact is that management always has been willing to sign them, but the law didn't require management. There seemed to be no reason for quarantining business execs to check an ideological infection they didn't have. But if the 81st congress revises the non-Communist section of the Taft-Hartley act, management will jump at a chance to cooperate with it.

This would rob union leaders of a favorite talking point. There are some leaders who have refused to sign affidavits as a matter of principle. But among those who complained most, not all were interested in principle. Some didn't dare make an affidavit that they had no connection with the Communist party, lest they perjure themselves. It will be fun to see what excuse they can think up next for bucking the non-Communist proviso, if the 81st congress broadens it to include employers.

An Important Right

By David Lowrence

Privilege of Petition for Redress Is Vital

WASHINGTON

ONCE upon a time the framers of the Constitution wrote into the Bill of Rights a declaration guaranteeing to every citizen the right to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

This is a very important right and one of the facts that an investigation of any republican would seek to destroy.

Behind the subtle attacks on so-called "lobbying," the effort now has been begun to squelch the legitimate expression of opinion. Congress is prohibited by the first amendment to the Constitution from making any law abridging the right of petition and yet there is a law on the statute books today which interferes with the right of petition. President Truman, moreover, has just given official endorsement to a plan of a national labor union to press upon congress a resolution for an investigation of "lobbying."

Mr. Truman has been a member of congress and he ought to know whether or not there is integrity in the legislative branch of the government. For the inquiry might just as well be entitled an investigation of the receptiveness of congressmen and senators to the petitions of the citizens.

• • •

IF, OF COURSE, a congressman is bribed or unduly influenced by an offer of material rewards, this is logically and properly a subject for investigation and there are already laws on the statute books to punish those officials who accept bribes. But the President apparently is not asking that the members of congress be investigated. He is asking that the citizens who present these petitions in Washington shall be investigated.

There have been investigations of lobbies before but not until recently was a law passed setting forth burdensome procedures of registration amounting in many instances to a virtual interference with the citizen's right of petition.

It is a very simple matter to abridge any constitutional right by making the requirements of registration so cumbersome as to discourage altogether the use of that right. In these days of vehement governmental regulation, it is right that [illegible] should be developed a test of fairness in the exercise of one of his most [illegible] rights.

• • •

THE AVERAGE CITIZEN is helpless as an individual. He can, of course, write to congress but he does not know the details of legislation. That is left to organized groups to handle for him. Thus the biggest single lobby in Washington for many years has been the labor lobby. It is effective, too, having succeeded for 13 years in warding off amendments to the Wagner labor relations act by the simple expedition of influencing members of two congressional committees to sit on the proposed amendments and keep them from going to the floor.

The labor lobby, however, has had every right to do this and so have business men's groups. It is rather a sinister development that the labor groups always want the business men's lobbies driven away from the national capital but want their own lobby to operate unhampered by the presentation of an opposition viewpoint.

There is no reason why legislative agents should not be required to reister but it is of no public concern what their fees are any more than the fees of lawyers or other professional consultants. It is important only whether any money is used to bribe members of congress. If there is to be an investigation of lobbying there ought logically to be an investigation of the behavior of members of congress. This would probably result in discouraging citizens from petitioning congress and likewise cause members of both houses to hesitate to receive representatives of national organizations. It is an easy way to frustrate the exercise of the right of petition. Maybe that is to be the trend of the newest phase of the New Deal. It would be strange indeed if so-called liberalism, triumphant at the polls, set out in the name of liberalism to squelch in free America, directly or indirectly, the right of the citizen to petition his government for a redress of grievances.

Inflation Petering Out?

By Raymond Moley

IT is too broad a statement to say that price inflation is a state of mind. But it has been true as far back as there are economic records that, unless there are exceedingly abnormal conditions in the supply of money and goods, the general attitude of the consumer can make or break price inflation. B. M. Baruch throughout the war told us that as long as people did not lose faith in their money altogether, there would be no runaway inflation. There was no runaway inflation, although during and since the war there were enough price increases to cause great discomfort, some panic and general uncertainty.

The present and future attitude of the public, therefore, must be examined with care, if we are to make an estimate of the future of this inflationary boom. What is there in the present situation which may affect the public attitude, and what course may be anticipated?

• • •

IN THE FIRST PLACE, it will be well for those millions who voted for Dewey and the other millions who voted for Truman, despite their belief that he would lose, to keep in mind one fact which has been grossly underestimated by those who scan the economic weather.

That fact is that some million voted for Truman in the belief that he could stop inflation and that Republicans had up to now frustrated his efforts. Those millions have vast purchasing power. Their attitude at the moment must be that prices will be checked or will come down. It is the simplest of simple sense, therefore, to expect that some millions will put a brake on their buying. They will wait a while, until Truman gets busy on his plans for helping them. In reasoning this way we need not consider whether Truman's plans will be wise or good. In politics and economics it is just as important to note what people believe as it is to examine the wisdom of their belief. What they believe, whether it be true or not, greatly influence the course of events.

• • •

TO REPEAT, millions believe prices will come down, and that belief is and will be a considerable check on inflation, for the time being at least. It is risky to suggest that this has already caused a slowing down in some markets, such as department stores or the stock market. But it may well be that this factor is highly important in both places.

As noted above, however, public psychology is only one factor in the picture. Do the present supplies of money and goods present abnormalities great enough to outweigh consumer reluctance to buy?

The general answer to that is "no." There is no immediate danger of an over-supply of currency, for there is no over-supply at present, nor is there a prospective increase in sight. Increased inflation can hardly come from a budget deficit, for it is probable that there will be no deficit in the present fiscal year. There will be no increase in the national debt. Clarence Cannon, prospective Democratic chairman of appropriations, is already talking about budget cuts and debt reduction. There is not likely to be any immediate rise in bank credits, because the purchasing power of bank credits measured with total business volume is no higher than in 1939.

• • •

THERE IS, of course, the prospective drive for a fourth round of wage increases. That drive will certainly be made. But such an inflationary force does not hit all at once. It generally arrives, from place to place, as contracts expire or as specific unions feel that the time is ripe. The argument for such increases will lose force as the cost of living declines or fails to rise. The deflationary forces mentioned above will slow down the rise of wages. There will be wage increases, of course, but the size and number will be modified by conditions already developing on the downward side.

Changes in the Twenty

From the New York Sun

THE picture of the White House which covers the back of the $20 Federal Reserve note is to be brought up to date, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announces. The new engraving will replace that made in 1929 before the controversial Truman balcony had been added. Then there was two chimneys instead of the present four, trees and shrubs were smaller and, judging from a plate of nineteen years ago, a strong breeze was blowing. The new notes, already in production, show the trees, shrubs and lawn in deeper green than they appear on the engraving made in President Hoover's day. The flag is hanging at an angle instead of blowing straight out. Finally the building is labeled "The White House," instead of simply "White House."

Although the engravers can and do show what has happened to the White House in the space of 19 years, they can't picture what has happened to the $20 bill. While the White House has been sprouting chimneys and balconies, while trees have been growing larger and the lawns becoming even greener, the $20 note has been shrinking, at least in its purchasing value. To represent this change it would be necessary to whittle the note to almost half its former size and possibly, directing attention to its face, to give to Andrew Jackson a hair-cut, thereby symbolizing, if the present trend keeps on, about all that a $20 bill will really buy.

Running Out

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Dec. 2, 1938.

Expressions against the "isms" permeating the world and a plea for preparedness against war mingled with reminiscences of days "over there," when 80 members and guests of Dyer J. Bird chapter, Rainbow Division of Ohio, met for their annual rabbit dinner in the recreation room of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The Christmas dinner meeting and gift exchange of the Arbor Vitae club was held at the home of Mrs. R. R. Fox on St. James street. Mrs. Evalona Bish of Denver, Colo. and Carolyn and Alys Fox were guests.

Paul Richards was elected chancellor commander at a meeting of Marion Lodge No. 402, Knights of Pythias.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Butcher of Holmes place.

Ralph Carhart was elected president at the annual dinner held by the Marion County alumni and students of Ohio State university at the Masonic temple. Dr. John W. Wilce, director of the student health service and former head football coach at the university, was speaker.

Harding High school basketball team defeated the Upper Sandusky cagers by a score of 36 to 19 in a game played on the Marion Steam Shovel Co. court.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Dec. 2, 1928.

Miss Kathryn Louise Rice of East Fairground street and Reuben F. Frey of Bucyrus were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rice, by Rev. L. A. Wood, pastor of Trinity Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey entertained friends and relatives at their home on Silver street in celebration of the sixth anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owings of Columbus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oborn of Olney avenue.

Mrs. T. O. Moore and family of Kenton were visiting Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Patrick of Oak Grove avenue.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of Morral and Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Warner of Windsor street.

Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Holliday and daughter Martha of Lorain returned home after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pate on Reed avenue.

History-Making Alliance

By Mark Sullivan

ABOUT a development momentous in the world and especially to us as a departure, the present facts, so far as concrete facts have been arrived at, are these:

Conferences are under way, and nearing completion, embracing the United States, Canada, and 10 nations in western Europe. In the beginning the western European nations were five—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. To these are being added Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and maybe Ireland. The whole group is called the North Atlantic Alliance. The purpose is agreement upon joint military action against aggression that may be made upon any one of the nations. Actually, the purpose is much more than joint military action. It is ultimate military unity of the 12 nations.

A pact embodying the agreement is being drafted; when fully drafted it will be informally submitted to congressional leaders of both parties. These are already kept informed of developments as they take place. After discussion, the draft will be submitted to the senate for ratification, presumably in early February; this is the administration hope.

• • •

THE PACT TAKES account, necessarily, of the provision of our Constitution which says that this country can enter upon war only by an act of congress. Under the pact, all the other nations will be subject to the same condition. Thus each nation is committed to enter war only by a decision made at the time the occasion arises. This however is relatively immaterial; the pact commits us and the other signing nations to joint military action.

The pact to be laid before the senate is a master pact, it is comparatively simple and basic: its great importance lies in the broad authority it gives for actions and plans by the respective governments and other military heads.

After the master pact is ratified there will be a series of agreements short of the status of treaties or a pact. These look to building up the 12 nations to a state of readiness when and if aggression takes place; they contemplate readiness of the armed forces to act as a single military unit. They include a large number of provisions—common standards of armament and munitions, interchangeable equipment, blueprints for allocation of munitions manufacture among the several countries, location of military bases, and over-all strategy, preparedness for overall command in case of action. In addition to formal agreements, and in some respects even more important, will be informal and continuous cooperation by the military heads of the respective nations. Some of this is already taking place. While the joint maneuvers of British and American air forces last summer were not within the North Atlantic Alliance, they are the kind of thing likely to take place under it.

• • •

THIS UNION for military strength is companion to the cooperation for economic strength under the Marshall plan. While both arise from the same condition and purpose the North Atlantic Alliance is much more important because it looks toward permanency and is embodied in a pact to be ratified by the senate, while the Marshall plan looks to termination in a few years. Both compose a grouping of nations having common ideals and policies, a chief one of which is resistance to the Russian purpose of communizing and dominating the world.

Thus arises a new orientation of nations on a basis other than georgraphy and taking no account of oceans and continents. The two nations that compose nearly all the North American continent unite with 10 nations that compose most of western Europe. Even on the basis of geography this is logical enough. We are much closer in distance to England than to many parts of the American continent. A journey from New York to Liverpool by ship consumes only half the time of one to Buenos Aires. But the true and sound basis of the new union is not contiguity or nearness, it is not even common economic interest, it is common ideals about government and otherwise.

• • •

IT MAY BE that the new union is the beginning of a new orientation of the world as a whole. About one-fourth of the world is now preparing to form the North Atlantic Alliance with other countries of western Europe expected to join in the future. This is the fourth that has the longest history of cultural advance, the most skilful industrial techniques, and the greatest economic strength. By their union now forming they will have a preponderant military strength sufficient to deter aggression. Roughly another fourth of the world is composed of Communist Russia and its satellites. What seems possible to happen to the remaining half of the world is a gradual gravitation, country by country, toward either the focus of Communist Russia or the focus of the western nations now moving toward solidarity in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Highest Church

By The Associated Press

ROME—The highest church in Europe has been dedicated at 12,367 feet on Mount Ortler by Monsignor Angelo Granoli of Verona, the Vatican's "Observatore Romano" reported.

The church, dedicated to the dead in all European wars, was built on one of the tallest peaks of the Ortler mountains in the central Austro-Italian Alps.

More than 400 people attended the ceremony, many of whom made the seven-hour ascent of the peak fasting, to receive communion in the new church.

RISE IN FOOD PRICES FADES

East Coast Dock Strike Settlement Averts Coffee and Sugar Boost.

By The Associated Press

[illegible] of the east coast [illegible] this week [illegible] widespread rise in prices for [illegible] has been [illegible] in some food prices.

A few major brands of coffee were hiked a penny or two a pound in some places. But dealers blamed the rising cost of green coffee, smaller output in Brazil and a brisk demand in this country, rather than the dock tie-up.

Both coffee and sugar supplies were moving in normal volume again in time to prevent shortages from appearing on the retail level, market sources said.

In addition, the end of the longshoremen's walkout on East coasts promised increased shipments of canned fruits from the Pacific coast to many other sections of the country. High rail freight costs had been pointed out as one of the main reasons for a decline in deliveries during recent weeks.

Meat Prices Down

Meat still led the list of foods which retailers believed were selling closest to their break-even point. Wholesale meat prices have declined some 16 per cent since mid-September, a spokesman for the American meat institute reported. A survey of retail butchers showed the following cuts leading the price decline in the larger chain stores of several cities:

Sirloin steak down nearly 20 per cent since mid-September; [illegible] steak down 21 per cent; pork [illegible] down 36, pork chops down 24, smoked hams [illegible] 18 and pork sausage down [illegible]. Lamb was reported [illegible] plenty and there was little [illegible] cause either in veal prices.

Wholesale butter prices jumped 4 to 5 cents a pound during the week at New York and nearly as much at Chicago, followed by sharp advances in the price of eggs and the latter in the east. Cold weather in producing areas might trim output. However, no widespread markups at the retail level were announced.

The month of November saw wholesale food prices take [illegible] their lowest aggregate level since June of 1947, according to the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food index.

The index Tuesday declined to $6.36—the same level reported Nov. 2—compared with $6.38 a week ago and $7.17 a year ago. The index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 general use foods.

Slightly higher this week were beef, butter, cheese, potatoes, prunes, eggs and lambs. But these advances were more than offset by declines in flour, wheat, corn, rye, oats, lard, cottonseed oil, cocoa and steers.

In The Associated Press index of 35 important wholesale commodities, the food component was at its low for the year, 140.63, as compared with 142.18 the previous week. Last year that part of the index was 171.19. The base year 1926 equals 100.

Hybrid Hogs Developed To Produce More Pork

MAKING FARMERS CROSS—Landrec crossed sow, ready to cross.

By The Associated Press

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Hybrid hogs developed at the Purdue university experimental farms are showing farmers how to get more pork out of every porker.

The Purdue farms have produced one special breed with pigs weighing an average of 212 pounds at 154 days of age. Purebred Durocs used for comparison weighed 188 pounds at the same age.

Not only do the Purdue hybrids gain weight faster than ordinary breeds, but their carcasses have a higher percentage of prime meat. That means more money for the farmer and cheaper pork chops for the consumer.

How It's Done

The hybrid pigs were developed by continued inbreeding—mating of relatives—among descendants of purebred animals. The resulting inbred hogs were mated with similarly inbred hogs developed from a different purebred stock.

Experiments at Purdue during the past eight years have shown that the inbred pigs themselves are not suitable for commercial production—they decline in productivity as inbreeding progresses. But when two different inbred lines are crossed the resulting porkers have all the vigor and productivity lost through inbreeding plus an additional something called "hybrid vigor."

It's this "hybrid vigor" that makes the hybrids superior to purebred hogs.

Two Lines Developed

Purdue research has developed two inbred lines of hogs which are crossed to produce the hybrids. One of the lines, the "White King," resulted from intensive breeding among descendants of purebred Chester Whites. The other line, called the "Landrec," was produced by inbreeding descendants of a cross between Durocs and the Danish Landrace bacon hog.

Experiments both at Purdue and at other experimental stations point to another use for inbred lines. Not only can two inbred lines be crossed to produce a new and better kind of hog, but an inbred line can improve existing purebreds by selective mating.

Man Who Once Was Girl Shoots Self

By The Associated Press

TROY, O., Dec. 2 — Dot Lee Reed, 28, who changed from a girl to a boy at the age of 18, shot and killed himself last night, coroner Charles Keifer reported.

Reed was convicted in April, 1947, of stabbing to death his father, John, 51, in a drunken argument.

In the trial he disclosed that he was reared as a girl until he began experiencing a remarkable transformation at the age of 18. Medical testimony substantiated his story.

Reed, found guilty of manslaughter, served a year in jail. Because of his change in sex authorities declined to place him in the Ohio penitentiary.

Reed's home was in Piqua, but he had been rooming here since he was placed on probation last April.

He committed suicide, the coroner said, with a 22 rifle borrowed from a friend.

A DANCE Saturday evening in Columbian hall will launch the holiday festivities for members of "Club 75." Serving as the host and hostess committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert McComas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conley, Mr. and Mrs. James Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Feiber. Glenn Johnson and his orchestra will play the dance program.

FOLLOWING an annual custom members of the Elks Women's club will hold a Christmas party during the holiday season. Wednesday, Dec. 15 has been set for the event and Mrs. Lorin Beeman will serve as social chairman. The members will meet at 8 o'clock in the Elks' clubroom. Plans for the party were announced when the members met for a 1 o'clock luncheon and cards yesterday afternoon at Hotel Harding. Mrs. Emery Thompson was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Imogene Carr of San Francisco, Calif., was a guest. Mrs. E. L. Brewer received a special award and the euchre prize, Mrs. B. R. Felt won high honors in auction and Mrs. E. H. Morgan in contract.

For a meeting of the Octa club last Friday, Mrs. Reece Lee was hostess at Ringers inn. High honors in cards went to Mrs. John Farley and Mrs. C. W. Minnick, and Mrs. Raymond Sosey won floating award. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Farley on East Church street.

Miss Madeline Burke was complimented with a shower when her sister, Miss Barbara Burke, entertained at her home at 178 East Fairground street Monday night. Games were played and refreshments served. Present with the honor guest who will be married to John Benedict Saturday morning in St. Mary Catholic church, were Miss Murial Hawk, Miss Joanne Fate, Miss Zella Riggon, Miss Ruth Jaskey, Miss Laura Mae Dorle, Miss Dorothy Withen, Miss Elizabeth West, Miss Jeanette Burke and Mrs. T. J. Gallagher.

The Pleasant Garden club met recently at the home of Mrs. Carl Baseler of the Davis-Gooding road. Twenty-seven members answered roll call with "Things for Which I Am Thankful." Mrs. Denneth Owings and Mrs. Phillip Daugherty were assistant hostesses. Mrs. Giles Hoch gave a talk on "Christmas Wreaths and Decorations." Prizes were won by Mrs. Sylvia Herr and Mrs. Paul Augenstein. Mrs. Ralph Williams was named scrapbook chairman. Mrs. Clifford Seiter was a guest. The next meeting will be a Christmas party and exchange at the home of Mrs. Ralph Williams Dec. 28.

Mrs. Eloise Brewer and Mrs. Carl Uncapher were guests when the Friendship Euchre club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Jessie Beeman on Irey avenue. Plans were completed for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 at Ringer's Inn. In cards, high honors went to Mrs. Brewer, low to Mrs. Uncapher, and galloping to Mrs. Caroline Baldinger.

Mrs. William Parks was hostess for a meeting of the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Monday evening at her home at 286 Johnson street. Mrs. Patty Ann Ruckman, council president, was in charge of the meeting during which plans were made for a guest tea and reception to be held in January, and for a Valentine party to be held Feb. 14 for all chapters of the council. The next meeting of the council will be in January.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Speece of near Marion are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Fern Louise, and First Sgt. Richard Neal of Wilmington, son of Ed Neal of Williamson, Va.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. James Carnes of Wilmington at his home Saturday, Nov. 20, at 10:30 a. m. Attendants for the couple were T-Sgt. and Mrs. Dan Hill of Wilmington.

Bride and bridegroom wore matching suits in Glenn plaid, and the bride's corsage was of red roses.

She was graduated from Whetstone High school in 1942 and is now employed as a cashier and supervisor in the finance office at the Clinton county air base. Her husband is an administrative specialist assistant to the base transportation officer. He has been in service eight years, during which time he was on overseas duty twice. They will make their home in Wilmington.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Whipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Whipp of near Marion, and Paul Kraner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kraner of Marion, which took place Nov. 25, at Ironton. The ceremony was read by Rev. Newton Mantle. The bride was graduated from the Claridon High school and is employed with the General Electric Co. at Bucyrus. Mr. Kraner, a graduate of the Waldo High school, is employed at the Universal Cooler Corp. plant.

Personal Mention

Miss Peggy Clary, a sophomore at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Clary of Claridon. A student in the Conservatory of Music at the college, Miss Clary is majoring in voice. She is a member of the a cappella choir, the Bach chorus and the Beta Sigma Omicron national social sorority. Other guests at the Clary home Thanksgiving day were Mr. and Mrs. Cline Clary and daughters Linda and Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Caldwell and son Willis Jr., all of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clary and son Kevin of Marion and Mrs. Johannah Sullivan of London, England.

Christmas Theme Carried Out In Gradale Meeting

A COMBINED business and social meeting was held last evening by members of Alpha chapter Gradale sorority, in the Women's clubrooms at the YMCA. For the dinner a "Prelude to Christmas" theme was carried out. The tables decorated in evergreens and favors of red bells filled with candy. The dinner speaker was Mrs. S. M. Dunlap who talked on her trip to Bethlehem at Christmas time. Christmas Carols were sung by the group and there was a gift exchange.

During the business session plans were made for the holiday dinner dance to be held Dec. 11 in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. Mrs. Clyde Goodyear is chairman of the dance committee and she is being assisted in planning for the event by Mrs. Charles Iams, Miss Katherine Watson and Mrs. Earl Reed Jr. Plans also were made to aid a less fortunate family for Christmas.

Last evening's dinner was arranged by a committee composed of Mrs. Carl Werley Jr., chairman, Mrs. William Collins, Mrs. Robert Keller, Mrs. Thomas Solomon and Mrs. Olin Flickinger.

Government Crisis In Syria Deepens

By The Associated Press

DAMASCUS, SYRIA, Dec. 2 — Syria's government crisis deepened today in an atmosphere of high public tension.

Five persons were killed yesterday in public demonstrations demanding resumption of the Arab war against Israel, and scores were injured in clashes of troops and crowds of demonstrators.

A protest strike against the government's Palestine policy is continuing.

(This dispatch passed through Syrian censorship, and lacked elaboration on the strike and the disorders.)

Two Minor Accidents Reported by Police

Two minor traffic accidents and one traffic arrest were reported here by city police during the past 24 hours.

A car driven by Loren H. Hard, 34, of 315 Columbia street backed into the grill of a car driven by Mrs. Lawrence Shaffer of near Marion while both cars were stopped for a traffic light at Bellefontaine avenue and South Prospect streets at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

A car driven by Robert Eugene Martin, 27, of near Marion was struck from the rear by a car driven by Betty F. Johnson of 237 East Washington street while Martin was stopped for a traffic light on East Church street at 2:13 p. m. Wednesday.

Grover John Keil, 21, of near Mt. Gilead, who was arrested by city police at 12:55 a. m. today on Mt. Vernon avenue on a charge of speeding, pleaded not guilty to the charge in court today and was released under $25 bond pending a hearing of his case at a later date.

Makes Machine That Flies By Flapping Wings

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Dec. 1 — The dream of a machine that flies by flapping its wings like a bird may come true, at least in toy size, a Wright Field engineer said today.

Adam J. Stolzenberger, aeronautical engineer at the big Air Force base, told a reporter he had been working at home and on his own time for a year and had built two models along lines of birds and insects.

Now he has one he said that flies. It's small, he explained, and powered by a rubber band that turns an eccentric rotor, but it has been patented and accepted by a toy manufacturer.

Stolzenberger said that if he made any money out of it, he'd go ahead and build a man-carrying model.

He said that many scientists believe the ornithopter to be the ultimate development in private aviation. One could hover like a helicopter, he said.

Stolzenberger is chief of the dynamic model unit of the Wright Field laboratory engineering division.

One Accident Victim Remains Critical

Of the five persons injured in the auto-train crash Sunday on the North Main street crossing of the Erie railroad, all but one showed a slightly improved condition hospital attendants reported today.

Mrs. Norma Shinn, 19, of Fostoria, wife of Early Woodrow Shinn, driver of the car, was the only accident victim whose condition has not improved. Her condition has remained "critical" ever since the crash and she has never regained consciousness since her injury. Mrs. Shinn suffered a skull fracture and lacerations of both legs in the accident which injured her husband and three of their friends.

RIVER HEARING NOW IN RECESS

Groups Opposed to Maumee Plan Still To Present More Testimony.

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Dec. 2—The long hearing on what to do about the Maumee river and its tributaries went into weekend recess again today with the end not in sight.

Albert T. Stroup, Van Wert county prosecutor and chief counsel for the groups opposing setting up a comprehensive water control program, said he might finish his case by next Tuesday. After that comes rebuttal by those favoring the project.

A 15-judge conservancy court is hearing the arguments on the proposal to establish a Maumee watershed conservancy district to meet problems of flood control, erosion, drinking water supply, pollution, sewage treatment and control, drainage etc. The watershed exends into 15 Ohio counties.

The group attempting to block the project has stressed the theme that the problems could be handled locally and that a valley-wide program was unnecessary and would be costly.

John A. Slipher, soil conservation extensionist at Ohio State university, told the court that the districts gave a farmer help only when he asked for it and dealt only with crop management.

Northwestern Ohio farmers already have lost a third of the organic matter in their topsoil as a result of wrong crop practices and erosion, Slipher said.

A number of farmers testified they had solved their own drainage problems through tiling of their fields. Two other witnesses, Dick Detrick, Paulding county commissioner, and Henry Green, a former Paulding county engineer, blamed a hydro-electric dam of the Toledo Edison Co. on the Auglaize river south of here for some of the troubles.

Toughest Policeman In Berlin Small but Mighty

"LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT THE RECORD," says Ray Carlucci.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Berlin's toughest policeman is only five feet four inches tall and weighs 140 pounds—but he has a million and a half people to look out for.

Orazio R. (Ray) Carlucci, chief of criminal investigation for the American sector of Berlin, is small but he packs a hefty wallop. He never carries a gun. Soft-spoken and deliberate, the former Montclair, N. J., man who at 38 has taken on a big job in postwar Germany, enjoys his work.

Carlucci, an American of Italian descent, entered the Army as a private in 1942. Prior to that he had worked as an investigator for several New Jersey firms. When he was discharged from the army in 1947 he was a captain in the criminal investigation division.

From North Africa, Carlucci went to Sardinia and Italy. Then they handed him the job which won him the French Croix de guerre and the legion of honor. He was assigned to clean up Marseille, tough water-front town.

His job in Berlin technically, is to direct the prevention and suppression of major crimes affecting persons subject to court-martial, and of all persons who commit crimes against the United States government and its personnel. One of his favorite targets is black-marketing on a large scale.

N.Y.C. Schedule Changes Made on Trains Here

Changes in the time of several passenger trains and the discontinuance of three on the New York Central system were announced today by Robert H. Stolf, passenger agent at the Marion depot. The changes will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Sunday.

Changes and trains are as follows: Train No. 420 leaving Marion at 4:29 a.m. will depart at 3:45 a.m. No. 446, departing now at 9:30 a.m. will leave at 10:26 a.m. to make local stops between Bucyrus and Galion. Train No. 434 daily except Sunday, departing now at 12:32 p.m. and train No. 430 Sunday only leaving now at 2:15 p.m. will be discontinued.

The following changes are listed in westbound passenger service. Train No. 423 departing at 6:05 a.m. will leave at 5:05 a.m.; No. 431, departing at 8:30 p.m. will be discontinued and train No. 427 leaving at 11:45 p.m. will depart at 11:25 p.m.

All other trains through Marion will remain on the present schedule, Mr. Stolf announces.
